

Gallo Homicide--Unanswered Questions

By WALTER S. CLARK

Robbery or a chance encounter with a person (or persons) involved in an illicit act or incident which was not to have been witnessed by anyone, have not been eliminated by authorities as possible motives in the investigation of the murder of Robert D. Gallo, 23-year-old Port Ewen barber.

Narcotics and gambling have been ruled out, it was learned from an authoritative source.

The robbery theory is based on the fact that the wallet of the victim of the Oct. 20 slaying is missing with its contents.

It was learned that the possibility exists that Gallo on his third trip through the hunting area about a half mile back of his East Kingston home on that fateful afternoon, might have come upon something that he was not supposed to have seen, and when he appeared he was slugged on the head and shot three times in the back of the head.

Key state police BCI officials, who have been working around the clock since the body of Gallo was discovered the following morning, did not deny those possible motives.

It has been established that a .22 caliber rifle was the murder weapon, and that the gun apparently was used to slug the young man on the head probably before he was fatally wounded. The bullets lacerated the brain of the victim, and an autopsy report of Ulster County Coroner William S. Keyser showed his skull was fractured.

Investigation has not uncovered how Gallo's arm was broken. An authority said that there were no visible signs of injuries of the arm tissues near the break.

A report of a member of the Gallo family that the victim usually carried a considerable amount of money in his wallet brought comment from an investigator that authorities learned from another source that about $5 in spending money was the amount he had with him when he went out.

Although the wallet was missing along with Gallo's new Fox double-barreled 12-gauge shotgun and his ammunition belt, authorities recovered $64 in his trousers pocket. This, it is believed, was the receipts from his barber business.

Since the day of the murder

BCI investigators with key officials out of Troop F headquarters at Middletown and plainclothes men from this area in charge of Senior BCI Investigators Edward Shannon and Charles Teelon have questioned scores of persons, but as yet nothing concrete that might lead to a solution to the crime has been uncovered.

At least two persons have undergone lie-detector tests. They have been eliminated, temporarily at least.

Meanwhile, residents of East Kingston are tense, and one authority said, "Justifiably so."

Fear of retaliation has been expressed by some residents in that area, if the person (or persons) directly involved in the murder, learn the identity of any informants.

Authorities are doing everything possible to track down the person who telephoned threats to an East Kingston fire official, who has been assisting in the investigation. The call is not believed to have been the work of a crank because the receiver of the call is not listed in the telephone directory. That might indicate that the person (or persons) who murdered Gallo reside locally.

Authorities have assured area residents that any information provided state police or the sheriff's office relating to the Gallo case, will be held in strict confidence and the identity of the informant will not be disclosed to anyone.

Because of the interest of area residents in bringing about the arrest of the murderer, the East Kingston Rod and Gun Club, of which the victim of the slaying was an active member, has called a special meeting for Monday night at 7 at the East Kingston Firehouse to discuss the Gallo case.

Paris Talks--Abrupt End

PARIS (UPI)—The last regular Vietnam talks session before the U.S. presidential election ended abruptly today. North Vietnam's chief delegate emerged with a clenched fist and vowed no progress toward peace until America unconditionally ends its bombing of his country.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman walked out of the shortest of all the 28 sessions and said each side had made a brief statement.

"That's all I can say," he said.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press reported that Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., the U.S. commander in Vietnam, paid a supersecret call on the White House but a spokesman commented that the visit does not mean there has been a breakthrough toward peace.

U.S. officials in Vietnam agree that no president can quickly or neatly win the war or gain a palatable peace. Story on page 7.

Later Harriman said he talked informally with Thuy for 35 minutes over a cup of tea. "There was nothing in the tea break of any significance," he said and then, almost in a whisper, added, "at least that I can talk about."

Harriman declined to say if there might be secret sessions before the scheduled meeting next Wednesday.

Unconfirmed reports spread in Paris that the United States was contemplating a full bombing halt against North Vietnam—the price Hanoi has demanded for arranging peace talks.

In Bangkok, Thai Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman returned today from Washington and the United Nations and told newsmen: "At this time talks about a halt are in the final stages. There could be an agreement."

In Saigon, President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam and his highest aides met before dawn today. Sources said they discussed American proposals for ending the bombing of North Vietnam.

In Paris, Harriman declined to detail to newsmen the state of negotiations. "This would not be the appropriate time," he said.

But Harriman, a former Democratic governor of New York, replied when newsmen asked if the American presidential elections were having an effect on the talks here.

"As far as I'm concerned the election is not entering into the discussions here in any shape, form or manner. We have been dealing with the problems of peace for the American people and that is the only thought any of us have," he said.

Cong Hit Hard in River Battle

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Navy flew 134 missions Tuesday and allied forces sank or damaged 242 Viet Cong supply boats in the Mekong Delta in one of the biggest river battles of the Vietnam war, military spokesmen said today.

They said a force of American "swift boats" charged into the guerrilla supply fleet and destroyed it in a five hour battle Tuesday near the southern tip of South Vietnam.

Joined by South Vietnam air force planes the sailors also destroyed or damaged 167 Communist shore positions as the guerrillas vainly tried to prevent the loss of the arms and ammunition being floated to them on the watery end of the Ho Chi Minh Trail from North Vietnam.

The Navy triumph dovetailed with U.S. air strikes throughout South Vietnam against other guerrilla forces which President Nguyen Van Thieu said are trying to regroup for new Red drives. Despite fog and heavy monsoon cloud, U.S. pilots also flew 134 missions Tuesday against the source of the Communist supplies. North Vietnam's Southern panhandle.

U.S. B52 Stratofortresses Tuesday and today repeatedly pounded the Communist positions between Saigon and the Cambodian border just to the northwest. The big jets dropped more than 360 tons of bombs on troops positions and supply dumps.

In Vientiane, in neighboring Laos, military officials today said the North Vietnamese inside South Vietnam are showing signs of the pounding they are taking by allied air forces.

They said about 3,200 North Vietnamese troops have been spotted near the Laotian town of Attopeu. They said the Communists were heading west—away from South Vietnam.

In the river battle none of the U.S. craft was disabled. Five crewmen suffered wounds.

In other developments: Thieu and his chief lieutenants held a predawn meeting today. Political sources said they decided to stick to their position of opposing a U.S. bombing halt against North Vietnam unless Hanoi in turn de-escalates the war to open the way for peace talks.

U.S. spokesmen today said an Air Force RF4C Phantom photo-taking jet "failed to return" from a mission Monday over North Vietnam. Its two crew members were listed as missing. It was the 914th U.S. plane reported lost over the North.

Military spokesmen said Communist forces throughout South Vietnam late Tuesday and early today attacked four allied bases with mortars. The allies struck back with artillery fire, and reported light casualties and some damage.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press said that while U.S. jets were striking North Vietnamese supply routes, Thieu told newsmen in Saigon that Hanoi so far has proved unbending in its response to President Johnson's new peace offensive. He said

North Vietnam continues to demand an unconditional cessation of the bombing and at the same time fails to show good will or signs of a de-escalation of the war.

"No good will, no bombing halt," said Thieu.

North Vietnam's Communist party newspaper, Nhan Dan, implied the Johnson administration is encouraging reports of a breakthrough toward peace to help Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey win the presidency. Nhan Dan said the "U.S. propaganda campaign about a so-called 'breakthrough' in Paris will end in a flop."

Pilots from the carriers Intrepid and America reported leaving three oil storage areas in flames south of Vinh.

Ex-N.Y. Cop Saves Child

The quick action of a former Long Island policeman averted a tragedy Tuesday afternoon, when he jumped into Ontario Lake and rescued a two-year-old girl, who during the excitement of playing with three other youngsters, fell into the water.

The infant, Lori Dresser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dresser, who reside in a trailer nearby, was reported in fair condition today at Benedictine Hospital, where she was taken by Fatum's Ambulance.

The rescuer was identified as Ronald Harvey, who recently moved here from Long Beach, L.I., where he had been on the police force. He bought a home on the Ontario Lake front and was doing construction work for Stephano Construction Company.

Sheriff's Deputy Steve Rosenstein responded to the emergency call at about 3:30 p. m. to the lakefront in the rear of the Amberlight Restaurant, off Route 28 in the Stony Hollow West Hurley area.

Mrs. Barbara Smith, a sister of Dresser administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the child until the ambulance arrived. She said a neighbor called the ambulance.

Mrs. Smith said Lori, her brother John, 4 and two cousins, Paul Smith, 4 and Patricia Smith, 2 were playing near the lakeshore, when three of the youngsters came back to the trailer screaming that Lori had fallen into the water.

The mother of Lori, Mrs. Ann Dresser and Harvey rushed to the waterfront and jumped in. The man reached the infant first about four or five feet out and brought her back to shore. Fortunately for Lori, Harvey had just returned from a dental appointment when he heard the commotion and ran to the waterfront. Harvey said when he brought the child to the shore, he thought she was gone. He the mother and Mrs. Smith, all worked on the child to bring her back to life. Harvey has three and infant girls of his own.

There are about 11 trailers in the trailer park along the lake side. Mrs. Dresser said the children were playing in the front yard most of the afternoon and then they must have left and went to the water's edge. She said the children were told not to go near the lake because there is a deep drop from the edge.

Harvey has a slight problem today. When he jumped in the water he lost his car keys and was unable to get into his car this morning.

Freeman Poll

Area McCarthy People Back Move

By TOBIE GEERTSEMA

"He did what he had to do and he did it with dignity."

So said supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy here in Ulster County, almost without exception still backing their "man" today in the wake of his zero hour endorsement of Hubert Humphrey for president.

A Freeman poll of some 40 leaders and workers in the McCarthy movement this year revealed that the vast majority had expected the move in Humphrey's behalf. There was almost no criticism of McCarthy's decision and the general consensus seemed to be summarized in the remarks of a New Paltz man that, "being the sort of man he is, McCarthy had to make this gesture in an effort to minimize any voting for the forces of reaction, fear, and conservatism."

More than half of the McCarthy backers contacted by The Freeman agreed that in this last week before the election McCarthy "had to do what he did because of Nixon and Agnew." Said one Kingston man: "There is no 'new' Nixon. He is still the same man who called Medicare 'a long step down the road to state socialism.'"

More than 90 per cent of the McCarthy followers quizzed said there was nothing else the Minnesotan and his supporters could do except vote for Humphrey when "all of us know what Nixon is personally and that Wallace stands for fascism in the Hitlerian tradition."

News of the three major candidates for president is on page 38.

While it was obvious that almost all felt a vote cast in behalf of any of the many splinter parties on the ballot this year would serve no purpose and would be "wasting your vote," two of those contacted said they could not reconcile McCarthy's endorsement of Humphrey with his former stand. One staunch McCarthyite considered a betrayal; said that if he had been going to do so he should have done it long ago and not at the last minute. "What has changed?" she asked, answering her own question with, "Nothing has changed."

The only other dissident said some effort would be made here to get voters to write in names of all 43 electors on the Independent nominating petition of the Coalition Party. Stickers are available at the Board of Elections office on Fair Street for this purpose on which these names can be typed or printed and glued to the voting machine. "If only a handful do this," she said, "I think it would prove a point that still needs proving—that the McCarthy movement was and still is significant, historically and morally."

For the most part, however, most agreed with the Woodstock man who said, "Let's face it, Humphrey is the only answer and the only choice now. McCarthy is not a candidate and Kennedy is dead. If Humphrey was never our choice we can at least hope that he will show more understanding of the face than any of his opponents."

Most of those questioned had worked for McCarthy in some way since last November and their loyalty showed every sign of extending to honoring his last request. More than one said that if McCarthy could endorse Humphrey after all he's been through then "the rest of us should be able to see our way clear to vote for the vice president."

On other candidates, however, the McCarthy people are far from united. While all favored Paul O'Dwyer for U.S. Senator there will be some vote splitting between John Dyson (Democrat) and Peter K. Dufault (Liberal) for Congress in the 28th District. Many also say they will refuse to vote for Dr. Gerald P. Gorman for assembly because of his refusal to allow the McCarthyites to nominate their delegates to the national convention at the Ulster County convention last spring.

If McCarthy personally is no longer a factor, the effect of his movement may be felt for some time to come in the 28th District. As one man questioned by The Freeman said: "Unlike the Kennedy people, we are not so eager to return to the fold. When and if we do, it will be to work for change within the Democratic party organization, locally."

18 of 21 Seats on WHITA Board Filled at Election

By SHANE CROSBY

WHITA — We've Had It Taxpayers Association — elected a Board of Governors last night at its second meeting in Kingston. Only 18 of the 21 seats on the board were filled at the meeting attended by some 300 of the more than 900 members.

Acting chairman Harry M. Thayer declined to take an active part in the governing of WHITA, but was given one of the largest blocs of votes in the balloting. Thayer tallied 147 votes for an "At Large" seat on the board.

More than 200 votes were recorded in the balloting which included an undisclosed number of absentee ballots. Thayer said a 24-hour delay would be in effect, presumably until this evening, to allow for late mail ballots.

To Meet Nov. 11

Following election of the board members they were called together by Thayer and it was decided to hold an organizational meeting on Nov. 11 at 7:30 p. m. in the Gov. Clinton Hotel. The board decided to meet in the offices of the Hertz Neumark and Warner stock brokerage firm in the hotel. Thayer had suggested locations as being the best for the "first meeting" of the board.

Divided Into Districts

Members of WHITA were allowed to vote for the entire slate. The ballot was divided into districts formed out of school districts. Five seats were filled for the Kingston district out of 13 names. The five seats were Fred Hofbauer, H. Van Wyck Darrow, Emma Aprea, Albert O. Sonnenberg and Floyd H. LaForge.

Thayer was seated as the only "At Large" member out of three names.

Highland, Marlboro and Gardiner — grouped as one district — was without representation. A member of the nominating committee said that the number of WHITA members of the area was too low to allow for any selection of names. These seats were reserved for the district and Thayer said that they could be filled in later voting.

The grouping appeared on the ballot with a notation for two seats, but no names. Clinton-dale-Gardiner, said to be in the same district, did not appear on the ballot. One seat would go to that area of the county.

Saugerties district was given three seats on the ballot. Named were Albert DeSomma, Robert Gardiner and Nathan Aaron.

New Paltz had two seats and they were filled by Reiner Thibben and Peter Harp.

Ontario district is represented by two board members, Ted Geertsema and Fred Frank.

Ellenville district had three seats in contention with only three names on the printed ballot: George Barthel, Charles Burger and Franklin D. Sahler were elected for the district.

Before the voting took place Thayer attacked government spending citing cases of costs of printing the Congressional Record, the proposed executive budget of New York State and other records of governmental proceedings.

He produced copies of a number of large volumes as examples. Thayer cited a number of cases and declared "the robbery that is taking place."

The acting chairman presented a motion picture which was removed from the ballot. He said that the organization was not expressing as he had hoped. A large outcry of the members present demanded that he remain. The motion picture started it was the only part of it.

Wawarsing Will Pay $7,500 for the Dump

The Town of Wawarsing will pay the Village of Ellenville $7,500 for continued use of the village dump in 1969.

The figure was decided upon during a joint town-village meeting last night.

At the meeting, which was closed to the public, Ellenville Mayor Eugene Glusker presented facts and figures which showed that the dump, located on Berne Road in Ellenville, cost $22,000 to operate for a year.

It was also shown that the township brings in about half of the rubbish.

In previous years, the town paid $5,000 annually for use of the dump and when Wawarsing Supervisor Frank W. Harkin learned of possible village demands that the town pay half of the $22,000 cost figure, or $11,000, he said town councilmen would be "shocked" at the anticipated cost hike.

During the short meeting, however, the two boards readjusted their thinking to decide upon the $2,500 hike.

One other village demand was also met—the town will lend assistance as far as equipment is concerned in dumping operations.

Included within Mayor Glusker's figures were salaries for dump workers, equipment operation and depreciation of existing equipment.

What has to happen now is that the two boards will again have to meet on the adopting of a joint resolution on the matter.

It is known that the town is currently seeking another dump site for next year. However, any new site would take time to develop and the dumping contract with the village was running out.

Besides the joint operation with the village, the town has another dump in Kerhonkson.

GORMAN DAY IN WOODSTOCK — Woodstock Artist Ellen Arment Pudvan (L) was hostess to Dr. Gerald P. Gorman, Democratic candidate for the Assembly at a coffee hour held at Arment Studio, 14 Deming Street, Woodstock, following discussion of campaign topics. Dr. Gorman toured the area and visited business establishments. Shown with Gorman and the artist is Mrs. Joseph G. McNelis, Woodstock coordinator for the candidate.

Martin to Mayone

'Either Put Up or Shut Up'

"Evidently, Sheriff William B. Martin is not as good in practice as he is in theory," said Tom Mayone, Republican sheriff candidate today. Remark on Martin's claims of having maximum security and also open press relations, Mayone declared that, "it is now over two weeks since an alleged burglary occurred right inside the court house and it still hasn't been solved or reported to the news media."

Mayone Retorts

Sheriff's Ship Isn't Tight

Sheriff William B. Martin today strongly rebuked his "irresponsible opponent" in the coming election for the latest in series of reckless charges with no foundation in fact. "When I took office two years ago, there were deputies serving in the sheriff's office with criminal records," Martin said. "These men had been appointed by my predecessor. As a knowledgeable police officer, my first act was to summarily discharge these men."

"Every appointment to the deputy staff thereafter was made only after a thorough and complete check through the fingerprint and photographic files of the FBI, the New York State Department of Correction and the County Clerk of the County of Ulster. Needless to say, the prospective deputy had to be without blemish before he had further consideration for my appointment. Had this procedure been followed in the past, Ulster County could have said that no man with a criminal record had ever served as a sheriff's deputy. However, experienced men formerly serving as sheriff had never heard of an investigative procedure that to me is just standard procedure."

"If my opponent, Republican Thomas Mayone, persists in this fallacious manner of attack, I would suggest that he lay his evidence before the governor of the State of New York and press for my dismissal for malfeasance in office. He should either put up or shut up."

6th Ward Block Committees Set By GOP Hopeful

Brendon D. Alexander, the GOP candidate in the Sixth Ward, who has promised a periodical news letter, for closer, more direct representation, when elected, has also submitted to the voters a plan for a Ward Block Committee. This committee would be comprised of one or more persons regardless of political party, from each street in the Ward who would discuss legislative problems and poll their neighbors, reporting the consensus of opinion to the alderman. In this way an issue with a time element involved could be acted upon quickly, to the best interests of the people of the Ward.

Enrollments Up in State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Higher total enrollments are expected this year in the state's private and public schools than ever before, says the State Education Department. The department predicted Tuesday a total enrollment of 4,274,000, which would exceed last year's figure by about 64,000. In its annual statistical study, the department also estimated that $4,061,000,000 would be spent for public schools this year, with state aid accounting for 48.3 per cent of the total. Last year, $3,591,000,000 was spent, with state aid accounting for 46 per cent of the total. The report also noted that the average salary of the public school teacher was now $9,000, compared with $8,638 the year before.

WOMEN FOR NIXON — Mrs. Milton (McLean) Reynolds of Kingston (L.) is shown with Mrs. Vera Maxwell of New York City (C) and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller at a luncheon meeting in New York City recently for the steering committee of the New York State Women's Committee for Nixon-Agnew. The women met to work out plans for participation of women in campaign activities throughout the state. Mrs. Rockefeller, a member of the Flying Squadron of the National Advisory Committee was hostess.

Rolison to Pledge More Funds For New Paltz State Expansion

Providing higher education opportunities for all of the young men and women of our state must be one of the Legislature's major goals in the next two years," State Senator Jay P. Rolison, Jr., (R) Dutchess-Ulster, declared today. He pledged his best and continuing effort to the goal of equal educational opportunity for all who have the capacity and desire to seek a higher education.

"I pledge my best efforts to see that the State University College at New Paltz, one of the fastest growing State University units, continues to receive its fair share of expansion funds under the State University program."

Other Important Area

"A second area of vital importance to residents of our district is implementation of the recently released State University report on 'Higher Education's Responsibilities in the Mid-Hudson Valley.' This report recommends a graduate center, undergraduate engineering degree programs, improved opportunities for advanced degrees in teaching, establishment of a technical center, and expansion of the Associated Colleges of the Mid-Hudson Valley."

"Samuel B. Gould, Chancellor of the State University, has hailed this study and report as 'possibly the most detailed and comprehensive examination of a region's post high school needs ever made in New York State.'"

Senator Rolison also made it clear that while he is particularly interested in the higher education institutions in his district, and in the Mid-Hudson Valley, he also will work for implementation of the higher educational blueprint of the State University and continued expansion of the university curriculum because "I believe quality education at all levels is vital for the full human and economic well-being of the entire Mid-Hudson Valley."

The incumbent Senator, a member of Pattern for Progress education committee, emphasized that every Dutchess and Ulster resident has a stake in providing higher education opportunities and facilities for all. "Having these facilities in our midst," he contended, "will strengthen the region's economy by attracting industries engaged in technological and scientific fields. They also will attract new residents which in turn adds to our tax base. Expanding the higher education system in itself is an industry which even now has faculty and administrative staffs running into the hundreds. Our excellent higher educational institutions, both public and private enhance the prestige of the region and make it a likely candidate for the home of outstanding educational and research industries."

Cites Figures

Rolison cited figures, supplied by Dr. Gould, showing that 794 Dutchess and Ulster young men and women were graduated by the State University last June. Dutchess and Ulster registration for the fall term in State University College total 4,543. Of this total, 2,216 are residents of Ulster County, and 2,327 reside in Dutchess.

"Many of these students are able to be in college only because a Republican administration in Albany has vastly expanded the Regents and other scholarship programs, and because your legislature has authorized formation of the Higher Education Assistance Corporation and expanded its powers and authority to lend

Candidate 'Pleased'

2 Endorsements for Bell

Two more endorsements for Republican - Conservative H. Clark Bell came today from the American Fair Play Institute and the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association.

Bell was selected by the Fair Play Institute as one of only 25 assembly candidates to receive the endorsement.

Pleased at the designation, Bell said he felt "a candidate's success at the polls depends on qualifications and ability and not high-sounding promises or unrealistic charges."

The Kingston lawyer also said he was confident the residents of Ulster County recognize and understand his refusal to engage in "political exchanges that have little or no bearing on the real issues."

He said he would continue to strictest possible adherence to principles and practices of political fair play.

Issues Press Release

In a press release issued today, the Woodstock Taxpayers Association stated that "Only H. Clark Bell can be relied on to fight for laws to relieve homeowners from the heavy direct school tax without loss of local control of public schools."

The non-political, non-partisan organization emphasized that of the three Ulster County assembly candidates, only Bell, the Republican-Conservative is equipped to handle the homeowner's problem.

In a press release, the taxpayers state, "Since May 1967, Bell has consistently supported the method of school-tax relief for homeowners originated by WTTA in 1964."

Wants Tax Base Broadened

"Bell advocates broadening the tax base to include all sources of tax income rather than gearing support of our schools out of real estate."

"Bell actually introduced into the 1967 New York State Constitutional Convention a constitutional amendment exempting owners of non-income-producing homes from a direct school-tax."

"Bell also introduced a proposition, drafted by himself, to the effect that the state pay the costs of free public education and that no county or political subdivision of the state be required to pay the costs of maintaining and operating the free common school system, with respect to state-mandated costs."

"Bell's pledge to work for relief of the homeowner from school-tax, if elected, merits acceptance as a straightforward declaration of policy and purpose. At present local taxpayers must pay for the state-controlled mandated items of "free" public education by their school-taxes. Any thing improves the quality of public school education or provides desirable extra-curricular benefits for schoolchildren, must be specifically paid for by the extra taxes levied on the home owners."

"WTTA believes that Bell has the intellectual capacity to initiate in the assembly, sound legislation for school-tax relief of homeowners, and the will to fight for at least retention of the present degree of local control of the public schools."

Plastic Surgery for 'Galt' Prior to Slaying of King

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — An attorney says a man who gave his name as Eric Galt underwent minor plastic surgery before the assassination last April of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The lawyer, Bennet Olan, declined Tuesday to give details of the surgery performed by Dr. Russel C. Hadley except to say it was of the type which would not greatly change his appearance.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has reported Eric Galt was an alias used by James Earl Ray, now facing trial in Memphis, Tenn., on a charge of murdering King.

Olan said he thought the operation was performed three or four weeks before the assassination on April 4. "It may have been on the 4th or the 11th of March, I forget which," he said.

The surgeon referred all questions to Olan. The lawyer said it's believed Galt sought out Dr. Hadley through the Los Angeles County Medical Association.

Olan said the case didn't stand out in Hadley's mind, but he added: "As soon as we discovered who the patient had been, the case was reported to the FBI."

The attorney said that as far as he knew, Hadley has not been subpoenaed to testify in the Ray trial.

The Moon Calling

It is hardly a secret now that the Houston space center is seriously considering skipping an unmanned space shot around the moon. Instead, it is considering sending Apollo 8 with three astronauts to orbit the moon and make the final preparations for the manned flight to the moon that has been the aim of space exploration almost from its beginning.

The huge success of Apollo 7 — the 11-day journey in space, the 163 orbits of earth, the 4.5 million miles of flight — all convinced the space scientists that we have the machine, the manpower and the knowledge we need to orbit the moon and look for the last possible obstacles to the manned landing ahead, possibly in 1969.

There are minor problems remaining. There was the ill tempered display by the astronauts, which can be put down to fretfulness that mounted as their stay in space lengthened. Their irritation brought into public notice the tremendous job the ground scientists perform. Theirs are the hard decisions, the scientific knowledge that directs the flights, the responsibility for its success or failure. It was good that the spotlight was turned on them briefly.

Partly as a result of the success of the Apollo 7 flights serious consideration is being given toward sending Apollo 8 on a flight around the moon. Lt. Gen. Samuel Phillips, Apollo program manager, said a decision on the use of Apollo 8 will be made by the middle of November.

Due for launch between Dec. 20 and 26, the favored plan now is to send Apollo 8 on a three-day voyage to the moon, dropped into lunar orbit about 60 miles above the moon and flown around the moon 10 times before being brought back to earth.

A lunar orbit flight would test out the spacecraft's ability to navigate to the moon and communicate from the moon to earth; it would test the spacecraft's ability to see how it survives the searing heat of re-entry into the earth's atmosphere after its flight to the moon; and it would test the crew's staying powers on a moon voyage. All this must be done before attempting a lunar landing flight, things that will make that landing safer and nearer.

Welcome back, from a mission well done, Schirra, Eisele and Cunningham. Bon voyage to Borman, Lovell and Anders and their Apollo 8 flight in December.

Soviet Naval Threat

In April 1967, at the Karlovy Vary conference of the Communist parties, First Secretary Brezhnev demanded the withdrawal of the U. S. Sixth Fleet from the Mediterranean. Since his demand was ignored, he tried to get the Communist parties of Italy and other leftist parties in countries bordering the Mediterranean to join in a campaign against the American naval presence there.

Yugoslavia's response was that the fleets of all foreign powers should have the Mediterranean. To her, the Soviet presence means carrier-berthed helicopters that makes her vulnerable to Soviet pressure, especially after the invasion of Czechoslovakia. They make her lack of common frontiers with the Soviet Union no protection.

The Soviet navy, the fastest growing in the world, still is no match for the great American fleet. It will be a long time before it can challenge the combined free world navies. But it feels strong enough to demand the departure of the U. S. Sixth fleet from the Mediterranean, and also strong enough to appear in all seven seas, thus having a nuisance value that is unwelcome.

Russia has always been a land owner, with its Eurasian spread. Naval power gives her a new factor, which Brezhnev and his associates are in some hurry to capitalize. As with any new weapon, the danger is that inadvertently her ships may collide with ours. They have intruded on our naval games at such close range that it is a wonder no collision has occurred yet.

Yugoslavs Will Fight

"We said no in 1948 and we have said no in the wake of the Czechoslovak occupation," said 77-year-old President Tito of Yugoslavia to the Soviet claim of the right to intervene in any Communist country to preserve its brand of socialism.

After the occupation of Czechoslovakia, the Soviet Union sent a high level Politburo member to Belgrade to tell Tito it expected him to toe the mark, too. His answer was a warning not to interfere in the internal affairs of Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia is no match for the Soviet Union. Though they are divided by Austria, Soviet arms can come in through Bulgaria. A greater threat may be the Soviet Navy, which has been beefed up in the Mediterranean. However, Tito's warning is no bluff. He thinks he can defend his country from whatever source, but the USSR will not easily relinquish this valuable socialist satellite.

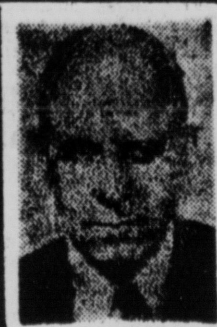

Tito's stand, following the brave resistance of the Czechs, could be the beginning of the return of sovereignty to all states of Eastern Europe, now under the heels of the Soviets. Should anything come of it, the Czechs and perhaps the Rumanians and Hungarians might make the rear untenable for the Russians.

"The Tallest Buildings in the World!"

David Lawrence Says

London Demonstration Planned by Communists

WASHINGTON — Why would 50,000 people participate in a march in London denouncing the Vietnam war? The British have long since pulled out of Asia militarily, and they haven't given the slightest indication of an intention to become involved in Vietnam.

What, then, is the reason? The answer is that the demonstration was unquestionably planned by representatives of the Communist party who have trained leaders in England ready to espouse any cause that the Moscow government may decide to have publicized. Most of the participants in the marches are themselves unaware of the Communist connection, but are persuaded by one means or another that they ought to demonstrate against the United States. The instigators, however, are for the most part financed by the Soviet government, and there are trained agitators in various countries throughout the world, especially in the United States and in Latin America.

In the annual report of the House Committee on Un-American Activities issued this month, Chairman Edwin E. Willis describes the Communist origin and manipulation of demonstrations in this country against the Vietnam war. He says that an assortment of Communists of both the Peking and Moscow varieties, fellow travelers, Marxists, radicals, pacifists and professional "peace" agitators have launched demonstrations. The purpose, of course, is to sabotage American efforts to support the South Vietnamese resistance to a Communist takeover of their country.

Mr. Willis points out that while honest, sincere and responsible dissent is legitimate, "the fact must be faced that there are persons who use the claim and mask of dissent for no other reason than to try to conceal the fact that their allegiance is to a power other than that of the United States." He summarizes the situation as follows:

"Deliberate deception, methodically employed to advance the world Communist movement is not dissent, but conspiracy." FBI director J. Edgar Hoover testified before the Committee, moreover, that "Students for a Democratic Society" — which claims to be the largest of the "new left" student organizations, with more than 140 chapters — is one of the most militant of the student-youth groups engaged in activities protesting U.S. foreign policies. Communists, he said, are "actively promoting and participating in" the programs of the Students for a Democratic Society. There are indications that some of the groups are even working at a high-school level.

The techniques of the Communists in stimulating student demonstrations throughout the world are well known to officials in the American government and to members of Congress. The Department of Justice is aware of the record of some of the leaders active in this country. Many of them openly acknowledge that they are Communists. Others conceal any connection with the party, but meet often with Communist leaders.

Anybody can organize a political party in America and preach a cause that is unpopular and even contrary to the policies of the United States. But if the leaders of any such group participate in conferences with representatives of foreign governments or receive compensation or other rewards for themselves or for the expense of "demonstrations," this could be defined as a conspiracy against the United States.

The late Judge Michael A. Musmanno, for 16 years a member of the Supreme Court of the state of Pennsylvania, testified before the House Committee that, under some court decisions, the Communists have been able to turn the Fifth Amendment into a "fifth column marching against the security of the nation."

Certainly there is need for legislation, as recommended by the committee, to strengthen the laws against conspiracy and particularly to prohibit any relationship between demonstrators in this country and a foreign power. There have been virtually no prosecutions against Communists who are citizens of the United States but who take orders from a foreign government. Yet their activities are designed to impair or break down the foreign policy of the United States.

Humphrey Gains on Nixon; May Have Started Too Late

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
TOLEDO, Ohio — (NEA) — Republican nominee Richard Nixon, hitting hard with the presidential election just days away, keeps a strong margin over a rising Vice President Humphrey and a nearly stationary George Wallace in a race with mounting uncertainties.

NEA's second and final survey of the national picture shows Nixon 313 electoral votes — 30 less than he was given in the previous check but 43 more than the 270 needed for election Nov. 5.

Humphrey bounds up from a dismal 46 votes to a more respectable 114 and is pressing close in several critical states. Third-party nominee Wallace of Alabama also moves up, but only from 53 to 66. Few surveys, if any, have shown him slipping to third place.

NEA's new survey gives Nixon 31 states against 32 the time before and has him leading in five of the eight most populous northern states — California, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey — plus Florida in the South.

Humphrey is considered to have added huge New York (43 votes) and probably Texas (25) to his previous total of six states — Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Minnesota, Hawaii — and the District of Columbia.

Thus he now leads in three of the most populous 10 states.

He is also a strong threat to take Michigan (21), which key pollsters and the analysts in both major party camps rate a tossup.

Needs Big States

To have any serious hope of adding materially to his electoral total and either winning or depriving Nixon of victory on Nov. 5, Humphrey would have to take away from the GOP nominee such big ones as Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Jersey and, most likely, California.

Some field inquiries suggest Humphrey might have an edge in Pennsylvania and his own people believe this. But again, the thrust of the evidence still puts it with Nixon, though perhaps quite close.

Humphrey's toughest appraisers think they also have New Jersey, but leading Democrats in the state disagree and it is hard to find impressive evidence in support of Humphrey's claims.

Neither public opinion polls nor electoral vote checks show substantial new gains for Wallace. He is now given North Carolina's 13 votes in a close test with Nixon, to add to his previous six in the South — Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and South Carolina. He leads in no northern or western states.

Nevertheless, this list of seven adding to 66 votes, and the poll indications that he may take between 18 and 21 per cent of the U.S. popular vote, still make it abundantly plain he will be the strongest third-party candidate in 56 years.

Arguments range among pollsters and analysts whether Wallace's vote may diminish somewhat by election day, helping Humphrey in key states like Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Missouri, or whether there is a hidden Wallace vote that may show even bigger on the Nov. 5 counting board.

On balance, the judgment of the experts appears to be that Wallace will either hold strength or drop off some, mostly to Humphrey's advantage, but that probably there is not much hidden strength for him.

In the doubtful category at this turn are, of course, Michigan, but also Missouri (12), Connecticut (8) and New Mexico (4), the latter one of two mountain states with a strong Democratic voting past.

The judgment widely thought to be most sensible is that Humphrey's gains and his further thrusts represent largely a corrective from an unreal posture of nearly total weakness — since the Democratic party is, after all, still the nation's majority party.

Virtually no experienced politician, pollster or analyst is daring to say Humphrey could win the needed 270 electoral votes Nov. 6.

Drew Pearson Says To Indict NBC for Bugging Democratic Platform Committee

WASHINGTON — The National Broadcasting Company is being indicted this week for bugging the room for the Democratic platform committee in Chicago. The microphone was hidden under a pillow on a sofa in the platform committee room and the NBC producer who allegedly placed it there, Enid Roth, has been selected as the scape goat.

This action marks the first time in history that the government has cracked down on the high-handed operations of the networks, which in the past have helped instigate riots, played a part in encouraging trouble during the Little Rock school crisis, and slanted the news brazenly at the Chicago convention.

The latter is under congressional investigation right now by the House Interstate Commerce Committee. Specifically chairman Harley Staggers, D-W. Va., has ordered a probe of the network's news coverage in Chicago, as compared with their coverage of the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach.

Preliminary investigation confirms reports that some of the networks deliberately went out to slant the news. House investigators have reported, among other things, that while Vice President Humphrey was delivering his acceptance speech, NBC had six cameras focused on him, but the director was partial to one particular camera showing an unfavorable pose of the Vice President.

The other cameras showed favorable poses. The producer's partiality for the unfavorable pose became so marked that an NBC assistant director called this to the director's attention. He waved the protest aside.

Evidence Submitted
Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., has also supplied House investigators with information regarding an incident which he witnessed on the Chicago streets. He saw a TV producer lining up several girls before his camera. They were unharmed, unmenaced, unthreatened. However, the minute he gave the cue, they began screaming "Don't hit me! don't hit me!"

There is also evidence that the networks were sore at Mayor Richard Daley and were determined to put him in the worst possible light. They didn't want to come to Chicago in the first place since to have remained in Miami Beach would have saved the networks between two and three million dollars for duplicate electric installations. In addition they hassled with the Mayor over the location of mobile units, etc.

The Mayor is not photogenic and the networks went out of their way to make him less so. Unquestionable the Chicago police over-reacted. But the basic fact is that six people were killed during riots at the Republican Convention in Miami; none in Chicago. A curfew was imposed in Miami; none in Chicago and TV film clips were sent all over the communist and non-communist world showing the Chicago riots, some of them partially whipped up by TV producers.

Whether Chairman Staggers extends his probe further remains to be seen. If so he would find, as reported in the Washington Post, how the April race riots in Washington actually got started when TV cameras appeared on the scene and young Negroes seized the opportunity to "get on television," or how the riots in Newark, N.J., the year before were especially whipped up by young Negro leaders when TV cameras were present. After 11 p.m. and the last TV news show it was found that violence subsided.

Commission Extending Probe
Meanwhile the National Commission on violence, under Dr. Milton Eisenhower, has finally been goaded into extending its probe into TV violence. Chief goader was Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., who has demanded that network executives come before the commission and testify regarding what Boggs calls "brutality for profit."

"The trouble with television," says Boggs, "is first that directors are entertainment-trained, not information-trained. Second the TV executives are scrambling for ratings because ratings mean profit.

"Every parent in the country has been alarmed and worried over the exploitation of violence on television for profit."

"We cannot tolerate violence in any form, whether it be on the streets or on the TV screen, whether it is because of racial misunderstanding or for network profit."

Significantly, when the NBC mike was hidden in the Democratic platform committee hearing room — over which Rep. Boggs was presiding — NBC eavesdroppers overheard discussion of violence in TV programming.

The communications plank for the Democratic platform was under discussion, and it was proposed that the Democratic party go on record in support of education television. However Humphrey forces wanted a much stronger plank, and after some debate won out.

Thanks to this, the Democratic platform now reads: "We deplore the all-too frequent practice of exploiting violence in television programming and urge the Commission, through the use of its power to revoke and renew broadcast licenses, to end this practice."

To revoke broadcast licenses is a power which the FCC has never really used and the idea of using it sends shivers down the spinal columns of network executives. To have the Democratic Party go on record to this end is considered nothing short of revolutionary and should be sufficient reason to have the networks do everything in their power to make sure that the authors of that resolution do not take over the White House.

Note — The National Association For Better Broadcasting reports that despite the public outcry over assassinations of Robert F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King, new shows on television have been just as bloody this fall as ever.

"Let me show you something," she said, and we left the room and followed her to the south window of the beamed sitting room. U.S. Officials in Viet Agree: No Palatable Peace Is Likely

By GEORGE McARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — If there is one agreement among American officials in Vietnam, it is that no U.S. president can quickly or neatly win the war or gain a palatable peace.

The hawks, made cautious by almost four years of war, make no predictions of victory dates. The doves, mindful of Korea's two-year armistice talks, foresee long and arduous negotiations at best.

Some see the possibility of a token American troop reduction—perhaps an initial 5,000 men—early next year. But no one will name a date when the army of South Vietnam might be able to stand alone.

Few officials give the impression—that they hope for much from Paris in the immediate future, a bombing halt, in the opinion of many, might actually stiffen Hanoi's attitudes.

The U.S. commander in Vietnam, gruff-spoken Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, works on the assumption that the Communist command is now planning one more big offensive—in a few weeks or a few months.

"I just hope that Washington doesn't lose its nerve," said one civilian official who has worked in Vietnam for three years.

Must Have Patience

A ranking general added: "We came over here to do a job and we're spending a tremendous amount of our country's wealth. My biggest concern is whether we have the patience and the perseverance to get the job done. I believe we must."

A civilian official who has never reflected Washington's frequently rosy optimism points out that all the old problems—nepotism, corruption, inefficiency, bribery, desertions—are still here. At the same time, he feels that enemy strength is at low ebb and fewer than 15 per cent of the South Vietnamese now actively support the Viet Cong.

Adding up these pluses and minuses is the name of the game in Vietnam. Nowhere do they give a clear picture. But the most favorable balance sheet appears, right now, to be on the battlefield.

From the jungled hills of the 17th parallel to the swamps of the Ca Mau Peninsula, allied armies are sweeping and patrolling as never before—and the enemy refuses battle. High-altitude B52 bombers rain more than three million pounds of bombs daily on enemy sanctuaries and staging routes. Jets, helicopters and artillery give allied forces a battlefield punch unmatched in history.

Since the first of this year U.S. figures claim that 166,200 enemy have died on the battlefield—against losses of 13,000 American dead and 13,600 South Vietnamese killed.

Most of the enemy losses came in three successively weaker offensives of February, May and August.

These losses account for the lull in the fighting. U.S. intelligence officers say. The enemy had to pull back and replenish and re-equip his forces. U.S. military say that the fact that this paralleled the Paris peace talks was coincidental.

"We haven't gotten one scrap of evidence that this was any de-escalation," an American spokesman said. "We do have plenty of intelligence that he wants to try again, but for the moment his intentions have outrun his capabilities."

The U.S. command is little swayed by reports that the enemy has pulled five divisions—and some say seven—out of Vietnam and into sanctuaries in Cambodia and Laos. These troops are within half a night's march of allied outposts and on the order-of-battle maps they remain red and ominous.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese believe that infiltration—running at 30,000 monthly in August and 20,000 since then—has largely made up the enemy's manpower losses earlier in the year.

220,000 Men

Counting the local force guerrillas, it is believed the enemy can field perhaps 220,000 men. In the main force combat battalions, 75 per cent of these are North Vietnamese regulars. In addition the losses in enemy leadership have damaged him severely. One defecting soldier recently reported his battalion had lost three commanders in 10 days.

All this leads the U.S. command to believe that enemy losses will be still more staggering if another offensive comes—even though it would doubtless achieve some successes.

The Americans also profess confidence that the South Vietnamese army will stand up well to any new offensive.

In the long run, everyone seems to agree, the strengthening of the army of the Republic of Vietnam—abbreviated to ARVN and pronounced Arven by the GI—is the most hopeful way to "de-Americanize" the war.

On paper, the buildup begun by President Nguyen Van Thieu's mobilization order is doing well. All the maneuver battalions of the regular army have new U.S. M16 rifles and these are now being given the militia forces.

The military, militia and police forces now number about 825,000 men and the goal is one million by the end of the year.

The desertion rate, however, remains a serious problem and the actual number of men under arms is questionable. Many a militia outpost is nominally manned by men who show up only on payday. Some militia commanders flagrantly sell enrollments—the recipient pays for his military status, kicks back his pay and dodges the draft.

But ARVN ills go deeper than that and are rooted in politics. The military machine is still controlled by officers who fought for the French and "outsiders" have a rough time.

Although the situation is improving, top appointments remain political.

Even though the ARVN has been taking more casualties than the U.S. forces for almost three months, the defense of Saigon, Da Nang and Hue—the nation's three biggest cities—remains largely in American hands.

"The day is not in sight when the ARVN could hold the 1st Corps Area—certainly not with the enemy in strength like he is now," reported a senior Marine staff officer. That area is along the demilitarized zone.

The remark is applicable also at other sore spots. ARVN needs more training, artillery and almost everything before it could stand alone against North Vietnamese regulars in their present strength.

However, ARVN, and particularly the militia forces, have shown increasing effectiveness in "the other war," the pacification of the countryside.

This is the war that has been largely directed by Robert Komer, the ex-CIA officer just appointed ambassador to Turkey.

There are 48,000 revolutionary development men in the villages in some 700 teams.

Last month enemy guerrillas killed 104 RD team members—double last year's rate—and the statistics indicate the guerrillas will continue to focus on them.

Komer's office claims 66.8 per cent of South Vietnam's population live in relatively secure areas—as opposed to 16.8 per cent in Viet Cong areas and 16.1 per cent in "contested" areas.

Critics say these figures show only part of the picture. "This isn't pacification, it's occupation," says one. "While the troops are there everything is fine. Pull the troops out and everything goes down the drain."

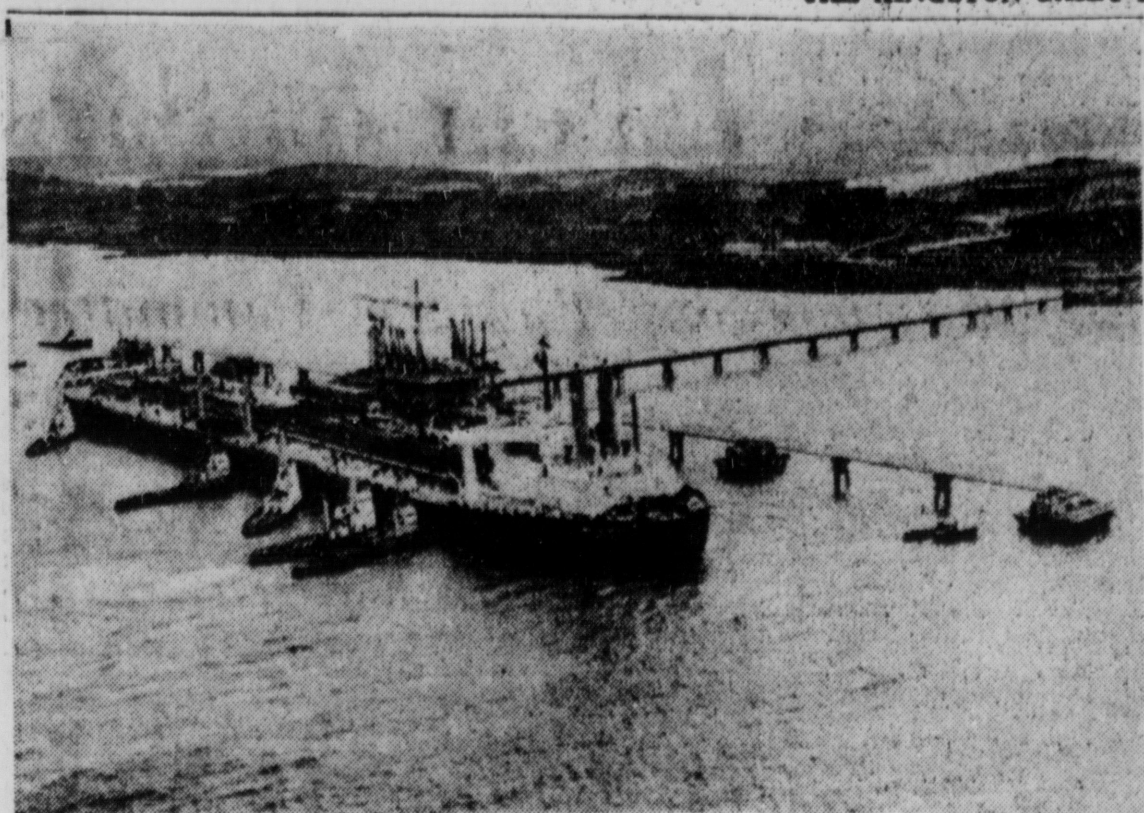

Since he shucked off his uniform and became an elected president more than a year ago, Nguyen Van Thieu has done little to inspire the war-weary populace. Months were taken up chopping down his former boss and rival, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

More Political Stature

Last May, however, Thieu acquired more political stature when he named 65-year-old Tran Van Huong premier. Huong, a gray-haired curmudgeon with a peasant's rugged face, has an unusual reputation for honesty. He also is a Southerner and this is important in a nation unwillingly dominated by North-born military officers.

A few weeks ago Huong kicked his own half-brother out of the government bureaucracy. Many believe he would kick out droves of people if he had his way—and the people to replace those ousted.

The anticorruption campaign of Huong and Thieu has re-moved half the 45 province chiefs and more are slated to go. Perhaps 1,000 lesser officials and local police officers have been transferred. But these measures have hardly scratched the surface of what must eventually be done.

Soviet Cosmonaut Returns

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI)—Col. Georgy Beregovoi, the world's oldest spaceman, rode Russia's Soyuz space capsule to a safe landing in the Soviet Union today, the news agency Tass reported.

Beregovoi, a 47-year-old war hero and test pilot, spent almost exactly four days in space testing the Soyuz 3 craft the Soviets hope eventually to send on a manned flight to the moon.

Its predecessor Soyuz 1 had crashed on landing on April 24, 1967, killing cosmonaut Col. Vladimir Komarov and causing an 18 month delay in the Soviet manned flight program while the craft was thoroughly tested and modified.

Soyuz 2 was launched last Friday, one day before Beregovoi hurled into space in his spacious two-room capsule. Soyuz 2 was unmanned and served as a target vehicle for Beregovoi to practice approach maneuvers in space.

Tass reported Beregovoi completed the soft landing safely. "After his landing, Georgy Beregovoi feels well," the agency reported. "Friends and correspondents met him in the area where he landed."

The agency said Beregovoi landed his Soyuz 3 capsule at 2:15 a. m. EST, using retrorockets to lower the vehicle gently to the ground in the pre-set area.

The cosmonaut had maneuvered the craft in space into exact alignment for the landing. Tass said. It said he then switched on braking engines for 145 seconds to start it down. The craft entered the dense atmosphere with the braking engines on.

The next step was the jettisoning of the living compartment with its instruments and the bunk where Beregovoi had slept four nights. The cosmonaut was strapped on his space couch in the command module.

During the final stages parachutes blossomed from the plummeting Soyuz 3. The Soviets said Komarov was killed when the landing parachutes became tangled and failed to slow Soyuz 1.

The return to earth came after Beregovoi had completed his regular early morning routine of breakfast and sitting up exercises.

Soviet news media had disclosed only the most general outlines of the Soyuz 3 mission. In addition to conducting approach maneuvers, it tested modifications in the Soyuz vehicle made after the first flight 18 months ago in which Col. Vladimir Komarov was killed in a crash landing.

The mission was considered essential to the eventual construction of an orbiting space platform from which the Soviets plan to launch manned flights to the moon and beyond.

In the meantime there have been other Soviet space launches this month which worry certain U.S. observers a lot more than Soyuz 3.

But what about Cosmos 248, launched Oct. 19; and Cosmos 249, launched the next day, both unmanned? Do they relate to the Soviet lunar project, or is their significance menacingly military?

These two launches raised to six the number of mysterious, yet-to-be explained flights in a special Cosmos series that began a year ago in October 1967, and has now been resumed after a lull of six months.

Thruway Shootout

Vivid Details Are Described

By WALTER S. CLARK

Vivid details of the fatal shootout on the Thruway involving two Westchester County deputy sheriffs and three convicts from Auburn prison, were related Tuesday by a deputy who survived, when he appeared at a preliminary examination before Ulster Town Justice Arthur A. Reilly.

The hearing had been requested by two prisoners who took part in the incident in the Town of Plattekill on Sept. 13. The defendants, Charles Culhane and Gerald McGivern, both 23, are charged with murder in the death of Deputy Sheriff William Fitzgerald, 63, of North Tarrytown.

Culhane and McGivern both were ordered held for action of the grand jury by Judge Reilly, who remanded them to the custody of Sheriff William B. Martin, for return to Green Haven Prison at Stormville, pending disposition of the charges.

A third prisoner, Robert Bowerman, 28, of New York City, was killed in the shootout by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Singer, 58, of 35 Beekman Street, North Tarrytown, who was a key witness for the prosecution at yesterday's court proceedings.

District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca appeared for the people at the hearing. Charles J. Saccaman was counsel for Culhane, and Attorney Edward T. Feeney for McGivern. Both had been assigned by Judge Reilly.

Several Motions

Attorney Saccaman made a number of motions. He was joined in each by Attorney Feeney. Saccaman asked Judge Reilly to dismiss the charge of murder on the grounds that the information filed by Senior BCI Investigator Charles Teelon was insufficient. Saccaman asked the Court to refer the case to a justice's court in the Town of Plattekill, contending that the alleged crime took place in that township and the Ulster court had no jurisdiction. Defense counsel moved for dismissal of the information on the grounds that it was based solely on information and belief.

Judge Reilly denied all motions by defense after objections by District Attorney Torraca.

Attorney Feeney's motion for a separate hearing for McGivern was denied.

Both defendants appeared under heavy guard of some 15 state troopers, deputy sheriffs and town constables. McGivern and Culhane were virtually shackled with handcuffs and leg irons. Saccaman's request to remove the handcuffs from the two defendants was granted, but Judge Reilly denied a request to take off the leg iron and chains.

Judge Reilly permitted consultations between the defendants and their attorneys in conference rooms at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall courtroom before and during the hearing.

First Witness

Deputy Singer was the first witness called by Torraca. He categorically detailed the assignment given to him and Deputy Fitzgerald by their superiors to go to Auburn prison to return Culhane, McGivern and Bowerman to White Plains for hearing on a writ of coram nobis granted Bowerman, who had charged coercion on the part of the Westchester County district attorney at a previous court hearing.

Singer detailed the trip from Auburn on the morning of Sept. 13. He said Fitzgerald drove the car part of the way, and enroute the car, not an official patrol vehicle, stopped several times under overpasses for Bowerman to relieve himself. The deputies and three prisoners had lunch at a restaurant north of Albany.

Singer said he took over the wheel and at a point near Plattekill he stopped at the request of Bowerman. The three prisoners were shackled in the back seat. As Fitzgerald's car came to a stop, Singer testified, Culhane leaned over and threw his handcuffed hands around the deputy's neck, pulling him back.

"Bowerman was doing the same to my partner (Fitzgerald)," Singer testified. "McGivern took my gun out of my holster. My partner got his gun out and hollered to McGivern to drop the gun. McGivern demanded us to take off the handcuffs."

"Two or three shots rang out simultaneously," Singer testified.

Torraca asked, "Who fired the shots?" The witness said McGivern shot at Fitzgerald and the deputy returned the fire hitting McGivern. Singer said that at this point, Culhane released him and Fitzgerald cried out, "Joe they got me." Then he slumped in the seat mortally wounded.

"I made a dive for my gun," Singer testified. "I took it from McGivern. He said Culhane 'dove over my head and grabbed Fitzgerald's gun.'"

"I turned and shot Culhane in the head," Singer testified. McGivern jumped from the car. "Bowerman was coming at me," the witness said. He then testified he fired "two or three shots" at Bowerman.

Coroner William S. Keyser, Senior Investigator Teelon and BCI Officer John A. Salters were other witnesses called by Torraca before the 4-hour hearing concluded.

List Action Plan for Flood Emergency

A plan of action in the event of a flood emergency in the Kingston area was announced this week by the Lower Esopus Waterway Committee and the REACT Committee with headquarters in Connelly.

The Flood Committee includes Huyler Van Wageningen, chairman of the Waterway Committee and George Lahl. The REACT Committee includes James Folwell, Richard Harbig and Bea Connelly.

Legislator Richard D. Nace, a member of the Waterways Committee, an employee of the New York City Water Department at Ashokan will supply information from the reservoir.

The combined group will have mobile units stationed at nine strategic points as follows:

1—Reservoir at the aerators and Browns Station at the weir; 2—Spillway; 3—Lamontville Bridge, Tongore and Hurley Mountain Road; 4—Hurley Bridge, off old Route 209; 5—New Route 209 Bridge; 6—Washington Avenue Bridge; 7—Col. Chandler Drive, arterial route; 8—New Route 209 Bridge at IBM, and 9—Town of Ulster Pump House.

Mobile units will report to Base Control on the rise of water. Bridges will be marked in feet and inches.

The public will be notified by AM and FM radio when a REACT unit is in the area. Units may be contacted to relay messages in case of fire, telephone failure and illnesses. Base Control will be in contact with the Flood Control Committee by land line. The Committee will relay all information to radio stations for broadcasting to the public. Mobile units will also attempt to keep all sightseers from emergency areas. They will also seek the cooperation of town constables and the Sheriff's Office to keep sightseers off emergency roads.

Further information will be published and broadcast to keep the public informed and prepared in the event of a flood emergency.

The Lower Esopus Waterway Committee has been advocating a clean up campaign to clear the Esopus Creek of debris to aid in eliminating the danger of flooding.

Futile Try For Break At County Jail

Sheriff's deputies on Monday noticed a tile taken out near Raymond Santiago, 23 of Plattekill had ripped a piece of window moulding from the bottom of the casement and used that to loosen the tile. The prisoner was doing one year for grand larceny, second and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. It was reported he may have been working on the tile for two days with the wooden shrouding strip.

Sheriff William B. Martin said it would have taken a year or more, if undiscovered, to dig to the heavy granite blocks on the outside wall and would have been impossible to break out. He said this scratching and digging is a common occurrence and takes place frequently in the jail.

Ulster Dean Presides at Spa Session

Dean of Administration Robert T. Brown, of Ulster County Community College, presided at the New York State Community Colleges' Business Officers Association meeting in Saratoga Springs which closed Tuesday. He was elected president of the group last spring.

Topics at the conference included a new formula for community college finance, with the state making a bigger contribution.

A graduate of Middletown High School, the dean received degrees from Orange County Community College and Arizona State College. He is presently doing graduate work at the State University at Albany.

Smith Clarifies Position on Taxes

Louis J. Smith, Republican candidate for alderman in the new Fifth Ward, today issued a statement to clarify his position on taxes.

"Much has been said about taxes," Smith declared, "but too little has been done except to keep increasing them. Why, the real property tax alone in the City of Kingston has gone up 13 dollars a thousand since 1966. Add to that the sales tax that was rushed through last year, and the Kingston taxpayer should have a tremendous tax burden."

"Now it appears the two per cent sales tax wasn't as necessary as we were led to believe. It seems the city will end the year with a surplus, and that we can 'get along' with only a one per cent sales tax. Well, I propose, and will propose to the Common Council if I am elected, that we do get along with one per cent. But that one per cent must be the city's share in a county-wide sales tax, a sales tax that is the same in all areas of the county, so that no area has a tax advantage over its neighbor. Each of the towns and villages should get a share, too. Certainly their budgets could use a boost. To this end, I will introduce into the Common Council a resolution calling on the county legislature to enact such a sales tax structure, and to do it immediately."

"While this might seem like an increase to the Kingston taxpayer, we must consider that with the increased revenue from a sales tax, the county will be able to reduce its real estate levy. The county's share of the city tax bill is over $20 per thousand, assessed valuation. If this portion of the city's obligations is reduced, then the real estate taxes can be reduced."

"Then too, there are possible reductions in the expense of running the city without cutting quality of the services rendered to the taxpayer. By applying efficient business practices and sound budgetary control, some further reductions would be possible. Perhaps the efficiency of various city departments could be increased so that the money saved could be applied to much-needed salary increases for many city employees. I intend to put my 34 years of business experience to use in tackling the pure of my program, and I'm sure I can find ways to increase efficiency and save money. I will have the time to work closely with city departments to effect improvements of this type."

"Of course, I hope I'll have a Republican majority to work with in the Common Council. I know that all the other Republican aldermanic candidates agree with me on taxes. But I intend to press these issues whether I am in the majority or the minority. I know that this is what the taxpayers of my ward and my city want and need. And they're the people I want to work for!"

Court Rebuffs Bid by Shanker For Jury Trial

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The state's highest court rebuffed today the bid of Albert Shanker, president of the United Federation of Teachers, for a jury trial on contempt charges stemming from the New York City teachers' strike.

The Court of Appeals split 4-3, however, in upholding lower-court rulings against Shanker's request.

Court aides said that the Court of Appeals judges were writing opinions to explain their findings but that the opinions would not be available for a day or two. Shanker had been cited for contempt for defying court orders barring the teachers' strike. He faces a possible 30-day jail sentence.

The contempt proceedings also were brought as the union up to $10,000 a day for each day that the strike continues.

2 Boys Hurt; Bike, Car Hit

Two 12-year-old boys were injured at 7 p.m. Tuesday when the bicycle on which they were riding was in collision with a 1964 sedan on Wynkoop Place at the entrance to School 5, according to a police report.

Herbert M. Wolff, 22, of 37 Park Street, told police he was driving east and making a turn into the school driveway when the accident occurred.

James Milano, 16 of Prince Street, who was pedaling the bicycle, sustained lacerations of the lips and left knee and possible fracture of the left leg. Steven Wenzel of 9 Shufeldt Street, a rider on the bicycle handlebars, received injuries of the head and left wrist.

Both boys were taken to Benedictine Hospital. Police reports noted the bicycle had no lights.

Cars operated by Vincent J. Lasher, of 344 Broadway and Margaret A. Barton, of 128 East Stout Street, Port Ewen, were involved in a rear-end collision on Broadway at Pine Grove Avenue at 8:28 p.m., according to police reports. Lasher's 1960 car was stopped in a line of traffic at the time of the mishap.

At 4:50 p.m. a 1966 suburban vehicle owned by Marilyn B. Bouton of 11 Florence Street, was damaged when hit by a car as it was parked near her home, police reported. The other car did not stop, authorities said.

2 Saugerties Women Hurt

Two Town of Saugerties women were seriously injured and a truck driver was cited by Kingston state police at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, following a head-on collision on Route 9W south of the Greene County line in the Township of Saugerties.

Trooper R. G. Bergin's report noted that Robert Boyd, 51, of Rochester Avenue, Brooklyn, was driving a tractor-trailer north and negotiating a right curve, when the vehicle reportedly crossed into the southbound lane and was in collision with a car driven by 20-year-old Janet Schoonmaker of Route 1, Saugerties.

She suffered multiple lacerations and a possible broken nose. A passenger in her car, Antoinette Lowery, 53, of Blue Mountain, sustained a broken left hip and lacerations of the forehead. Both were taken to Kingston Hospital by Saugerties Ambulance Service.

Trooper Bergin cited Boyd for failure to keep to the right and being an unlicensed operator. The summonses are returnable before Saugerties Town Justice Calvin Cody later.

Youth Injured, Struck by Car

Thomas Pape Jr., 16, of 18 Oak Street, was injured shortly after 8 a.m. today when he was struck by a car as he was walking across Broadway at Broadway and Dederick Street. He was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance Service.

Police said the youth suffered a possible fractured knee. It was reported that Pape walked from the front sidewalk on Broadway in front of a stopped truck and stepped into the path of a southbound car operated by Daniel Joyce, 21, of 65 Third Avenue.

Adelman Transferred
Samuel P. Adelman, of 4 Homewood Court, Hartsdale, who suffered an attack while vacationing in the Ellenville area recently, was transferred Tuesday by Fatum's Ambulance Service from the Community Hospital in Ellenville to White Plains Hospital. Adelman is a well-known New York City attorney, it was reported.

Drivers Charged

Kingston police arrested Lawrence M. Dean, 32, of 46 Grand Street Tuesday on charges of driving while intoxicated, operating an unregistered motor vehicle, and unsafe tires. Peter Perry, 22, of 17 Flatbush Avenue, was cited for speeding and being an unlicensed operator. Paul Fisher, 21, of 102 Abrynn Avenue, was cited by police for speeding and operating an unregistered motor vehicle. The cases were scheduled for disposition before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

GO where the action is with a leader who tackles the BIG, tough problems

In today's troubled social and political climate, the 28th District needs a Representative in Congress who brings vigor, initiative and fresh insights to the solution of problems.

John Dyson is the dynamic leader who has these qualifications. He tackles tough issues head on. He has bold, constructive ideas for revitalizing the Mid Hudson region.

Voters of the 28th District have a clear choice between Dyson's action and inertia. Between Dyson's sound proposals and "Me Tooism." Between Dyson's involvement with the District's constituents and a do-nothing attitude.

Dyson knows how to translate his ideas into action. He has been in Washington working for the District. While on the staff of Joe Resnick he drafted legislation, steered it through committees, handled constituent problems.

John Dyson knows what must be done and how to do it.

Go where the action is with a leader who gets results. Send John Dyson to Congress.

Vote—Tuesday, November 5th

Ulster County Citizens for Dyson

Lake Hill Fire Aux. Family Supper, Party

A family supper and Halloween party, sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Company No. 3, Lake Hill, inaugurated use of the new addition to the firehouse Saturday.

Costume prizes and games were on the program for the children of members of the auxiliary and fire company who gathered to celebrate "goblin time" and to have supper. Fire Chief Duncan Wilson presented a slide program of fire activities in the township and also views of his recent business trip to Japan.

Mrs. Howard Humphries, president of the ladies' organization, termed the affair "completely successful."

Seniors Hear About Autos

Senior students in the new consumer education course at Ontario Central High School were given much first-hand information recently on buying new and used cars by John Hanaman, Johnson Ford, Kingston. Hanaman discussed things to look for and avoid, what to expect in the way of financing, how warranties usually operate, and general information which could make a person an intelligent car buyer. A practicing car salesman, Hanaman was able to relate experiences and knowledge which supplemented that found in texts.

Fifty Attend P-TA Meeting

Under the direction of Mrs. John Bonilla, room mother for the Woodstock School PTA, a tea for room mothers and teachers was held recently. It gave an opportunity for teachers to meet with the mothers who have volunteered to assist each class with events such as class trips, parties, and musical events. Nearly 50 members of the PTA are involved in the program. The room mothers will also be assisting the hospitality committee throughout the year.

Is Endorsed By Committee For Bench Post

County Judge William F. Christiana of Hudson, Republican candidate for Supreme Court Justice, has received the endorsement of the committee for the election of the Republican candidates for that office in the Third Judicial District.

Saying that Judge Christiana is "uniquely qualified for the bench," the committee tells of his judicial experience which dates to 1938.

Judge Christiana served as city judge of Hudson, district attorney of Columbia County and presently serves as county judge.

The office he seeks services the counties of Ulster, Sullivan, Greene, Columbia, Schoharie, Albany and Rensselaer.

A native of Hudson, Judge Christiana graduated from Hudson High School, Hamilton College and Albany Law School.

The committee contends that his judicial temperament and his experience were rewarded with

Three Indicted For Robbery at Lloyd Grocery

Three men charged in the Oct. 15 armed robbery of a grocery store at the Valley Rest Motel in the Town of Lloyd were indicted by the October Grand Jury Tuesday when the grand jury handed down its final report in Supreme Court before Justice Louis G. Bruhn.

Indicted were Carl E. Peterson, 25, and Dwight Peterson, 19, both of Highland and Herbert Johnson Jr., 18, of Newburgh. The indictment charges robbery, first degree; robbery, second; petit larceny; possession of a weapon as a felony; possession of a dangerous instrument or weapon, two counts; possession of a dangerous instrument or appliance; unlawfully dealing with fireworks, and possession of a loaded firearm in a motor vehicle.

The trio was apprehended by state police at a roadblock about two miles south of Highland on Oct. 15 and were arraigned before Town of Lloyd Justice Linn Baker. They were committed to county jail in lieu of $10,000 bail each.

State police said Johnson and the Petersons drove to the motel which also operates a grocery store at about 10:45 p. m. and Carl Peterson, according to troopers, was wearing a stocking mask and brandishing a revolver as he entered the grocery area.

He demanded the cash in the register and troopers said a total of $55.30 was taken and the man fled outside. The trio then made a getaway in a car and headed south and were subsequently halted by troopers. Assistant District Attorney Philip W. Schunk, represented the DA's office.

Woodstock LWV Has Facts Guide

Non-partisan voter information is being distributed by the Woodstock League of Women Voters who urge citizens to cast an informed vote Nov. 5.

Mrs. W. Jack Kahn, voters service chairman, has announced that the 1968 Facts for Voters, the Ulster County Voters Guide and a limited number of copies of the National Voter are available to voters of Woodstock, West Hurley, Shandaken and Olive.

Mrs. J. Robert Wood is in charge of distribution and members of the league are assisting her by handing out voter information at the Grand Union in Woodstock today and Saturday, Nov. 2.

The league is offering rides to the polls for those voters in need of transportation. Those interested may call Mrs. Richard Peekema of Woodstock or Mrs. Kahn of West Hurley.

Guilty Plea

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A 23-year-old man has pleaded guilty to first degree rape in the rape-slaying of a 47-year-old woman last June.

Albany County Court Judge Martin Schenck set a Nov. 6 sentencing date Tuesday for Robert L. Pierce of suburban Slingerlands.

Two other young men already have pleaded guilty to separate charges in the death of Mrs. Rose Murch of Schenectady.

Bronx Man Indicted on Assault Charge

Julio Espinosa, 23, also known as Julio Espino of the Bronx was charged with assault, was among defendants indicted Tuesday afternoon by the October Grand Jury in its final report handed down in Supreme Court before Justice Louis G. Bruhn.

Espinosa was charged with assault, first degree; assault, second, three counts; assault, third, two counts and possession of a dangerous weapon or instrument.

The information indicates Espinosa was charged in a stabbing altercation July 28 at the Los 3 Argentinos, Plattekill, in which four victims reportedly suffered injury.

Also indicted was William J. Partington, 19, of Marlboro, charged with criminal possession of a stolen property, second degree. The case, according to police authorities stems from the theft of an automobile engine from a car in Poughkeepsie. The engine was found installed in the defendant's car on or about Aug. 12.

Melvin Linzy, 20, also known as Melvin Linear of Pine Street, Poughkeepsie, was charged in an indictment with rape, first degree; sexual abuse, first; sexual misconduct; assault, first and third. The charges are in connection with the reported rape of a 17-year-old girl in a Modena apple orchard. Police charge the girl was picked up while walking along Route 4-55 coming home from church on Oct. 13.

Robert P. Calhoun, 52, of Kerhonkson, was charged with possession of a weapon as a felony. State police were called to Calhoun's home responding to a call for assistance because of a family dispute. After questioning, troopers discovered a two-shot .38 caliber special. The defendant had no permit or record of registration for the weapon.

Assistant District Attorney Philip W. Schunk appeared for the DA's office.

SUPERIOR GENERAL — Mother Georgianne Segner of Dallas, Tex., has been elected Superior General of the world-wide congregation of the School Sisters of Notre Dame. She has spent the last seven years as head of an American province of the order, operating schools in Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, Arizona, New Mexico and Louisiana. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Kingston Vols To Keep Watch On Pranksters

Members of the Kingston Volunteer Firemen's Association, representing the volunteer fire companies throughout the city, will keep a close watch on the fire alarm boxes in the city to guard against the sounding of false alarms Thursday night, Halloween.

The sounding of a false alarm of fire is a very malicious act, sending fire apparatus on an unnecessary call, at a time when, if an emergency should arise, precious minutes are lost that could help keep damage to a minimum.

Anyone caught attempting to turn in a false alarm will be turned over to the proper officials and dealt with accordingly.

Time Changed

The next meeting of the Ellenville Village Board will take place on Nov. 4 at 7 p. m.

Although regular meetings of the board usually begin at 8 p. m., the fact that Nov. 5 is election day was given as the reason for the one hour difference.

News of Fraternal and Civic Organizations

The regular meeting of Kingston Chapter No. 155 Order of Eastern Star will be held on Friday evening at the Masonic Temple. A class of candidates will be initiated. All Stars and Master Masons may attend. Refreshments will be served after meeting.

Put Out Trash Early Friday, BPW Advises

The Kingston Board of Public Works has requested those whose regular trash collection day is on Friday, refrain from placing trash on the curb on Halloween night.

The public works department said that trash collection will not commence until 9 a. m. on Friday, Nov. 1, so as to allow the effected residents time to put out their trash in the morning.

This will mainly affect residents living in the downtown Kingston area (new Wards 10, 11, 12, and 13).

Anyone whose trash is collected on Friday, however, is urged to cooperate.

Grange Speaker

Donald Ross, president of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Historical Society, was the guest speaker for the Booster Night recently held by the Hurley Grange.

Ross talked about the history of the old D-H Canal and offered facts pertaining to the area.

Rotary Club Shopper Festival Nov. 15, 16

Plans for the Saugerties Rotary Club Shoppers Festival are proceeding and indications are that the second annual affair, scheduled for Nov. 15-16, will shadow the first. Dr. George Hamaty, chairman of the exhibitors committee, reports that 14 displays have been arranged and a number of others are in process. Club members have pledged themselves to get at least one exhibitor. Hobbyists, antique dealers, craftsmen, and storekeepers interested in participating may get details by contacting any Rotarian. General Chairman Clarence Bryden has announced the following committee memberships: exhibitors, George Hamaty, chairman, Michael Catalinotto, James Dargan, Henry Eberhardt; publicity, Dexter O. Arnold, chairman, Henry Eberhardt; hosts, Ernest Blake, chairman, Orville Hine, Dexter O. Arnold, George Hamaty, Clarence Bryden; booth

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Extra Police Patrols Halloween Night

Chief Charles P. Riley Sr. of the Saugerties Town Police wishes to advise residents of the town that in addition to extra police patrols being out Halloween there will be stand-by details that can be dispatched immediately by calling town police.

The REACT organization of Ulster County, a volunteer organization, will assist the town police for additional radio coverage in critical areas on Halloween night. Chief Riley advises that in addition to local prosecution of anyone destroying or damaging mail boxes, the matter will also be turned over to Federal governmental authorities. The town board recently approved three more additional town police and one additional matron. Those approved were Dennis Rowe, Lester Ostoyic, Ian Melville and Margaret Dachenhausen. The addition of Melville along with Supervisor Mike Schovel gives the police force two qualified scuba divers

School Personnel Ably Supports Chest Drive

Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, Saugerties superintendent of schools, and chairman of the Saugerties Community Chest school campaign, announced today that a total of $1,781.50 had been either pledged or collected as compared to the previous record high of $1,436.00 in 1967. School employees have consistently increased the amount given since the first school campaign in 1963 when a total of $570.50 was collected, he said. Dr. Arnold pointed out that not only has the amount of money increased but the per cent of participation has also increased from 67 per cent in 1966, to 72.1 per cent in 1967, with a total of 87.46 per cent participating in the current campaign. Every employee in the administration building, 100 per cent giving $35.00, a grand total of $1,781.50.

Women's Guild To Elect Slate

The Women's Guild of the Reformed Church of Saugerties will install new officers at a meeting Wednesday, Nov. 6 at 8 p. m. in the chapel. Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy will assume the presidency. Other officers include: vice president, Mrs. Richard Wenger; secretary, Mrs. LeRoy Snyder; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Freligh; spiritual chairman, Mrs. James Abbott; corresponding secretary, Ida Krauss.

Mt. Marion Glasco School Progress Good

President Arthur Simmons at Mt. Marion the work should be completed in the very near future. Resignations were accepted Oct. 21, and reported on from Mrs. Estelle D. King, elementary music teacher, effective Dec. 6, 1968, whose husband has returned from Vietnam and has been assigned to another area, and from Mrs. Marjorie Adams, cafeteria worker, at the high school. A leave of absence was granted to Janet Becker, effective Jan. 31, 1969. Upon recommendation of Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, the board approved the following appointments: Edward Jabs, coordinator for special classes for the remainder of the current school year; John Smith, cross-country coach; Miss Mary Polhemus, grade one, Mt. Marion School; Mrs. Shirley Mc Lane, part-time mathematics, junior high school; Mrs. Peggy Wilsey, part-time mathematics, junior high school; and Vincent Schaeffer, part-time driver.

Home Group To Talk With

The regular monthly meeting of The Barclay Heights Group was held recently in the home of Mrs. Egbert Kerr with all the members coming in Halloween costumes. Mrs. Philip Crank and Mrs. Leon Johnson acted as judges.

Mrs. Charles McGuire announced that Mrs. Richard Cyr, Mrs. Edward Carey and Mrs. Charles McGuire set up the unit's exhibit at the Christmas Open House at the Municipal Auditorium in Kingston.

Program chairman, Mrs. Roy Helmsmoortel announced that at the November meeting a talk will be given by school psychologist Dr. Robert J. Valachovic and a work meeting on Swedish embroidered bags will be held some time at the beginning of November.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Leone, Mrs. Jerry Smith and Mrs. John Welton.

Halloween Party

The annual Halloween party for the youngsters of Saugerties co-sponsored by Saugerties Youth, Council and Saugerties Lions Club will be held Thursday at the Donlon Auditorium in Saugerties Municipal Building, Partition Street.

Vernon Joe Benjamin, SYC chairman, said the grand march for costume awards will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. The local Lions Club has donated $50 to be distributed as prizes for the best costumes.

Teen Dances

Teenagers will be introduced to "western style" square dancing Sunday. The event will take place from 2 to 5 p. m. at St. Mary's Hall, Cedar Street, Saugerties.

West Shokan

WEST SHOKAN — Olive Rebekah Lodge 470 held its annual installation recently. The new noble grand is Mrs. Mildred McLaughlin. A social program followed the business session.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Terkelson, who trailer camped at the Don Bishop private park during the summer, left for Florida last Saturday. They were formerly residents of Brodhead, Route 28A.

Callers during the past week at Jacky Brook Farm included Mr. and Mrs. George Erts of Tillson, Mrs. Virgil H. Winchell, Harlowe McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nicholson and neighbor, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Ruth Rosengren, Mr. and Mrs. Percy F. Vandemark of Schenectady, Mrs. Herbert Rexer and Frank Dumond of Grand Rapids, Mich. He is the younger son of Lew Dumond, who prior to the construction of Ashokan Reservoir, operated a general store at West Hurley.

Mrs. Bertha Shimer entertained her grandson, David Thompson of New Jersey, for a week.

Last week a delegation from Shokan Lodge 491, IOOF, including Past District Deputies Harlowe D. McLean and Alonzo Davis and Past Grand Masters Lawrence and Reginald E. Davis, accompanied Grand Master Baxter and Grand Secretary William Klumpens to Sunshine Lodge 929, Highland. The Phoenicia Lodge 154 delegation included District Deputy James Platt and several other members.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nelson and family were weekend visitors with their parents, Superintendent of Highways and Mrs. Marcel Maier.

More than 300 attended the recent annual roast beef dinner served at Olivebridge Lodge Hall. The receipts are used to maintain various lodge activities and benevolences.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Touey of Englewood, N.J., recently visited with her mother, Mrs. Mildred Bush of the Vly Corner, Krumville Road.

Fire Chief and Mrs. John DeBelle of Woodcliff Lake, N. J., spent a week's vacation here with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neuser of High Point Road.

Robert Plesants Jr., a veteran of the Seabees, who has served two hitches in Vietnam, was assigned to the Antarctic for a tour of duty. His home is with his parents on Scott Road.

Miss Jennie Kerr has completed her employment in Woodstock and is reported going to visit with a relative in Endicott.

Jesse Burgher and son Gregory and son-in-law, Lin Lawton of Cuba, Allegany County, spent the weekend at Buckhorn Cottage. While there they hunted squirrel. Last month the two hunters made an unsuccessful trip to the Canadian wilds for moose.

BERNIE SINGER SAYS

Now let us talk about the contest for sheriff. Bill Martin has done an excellent job in that department. Ever since he took over it has now become possible to tell the difference from the deputies and the trustees. For the first time since I can remember the sheriff's department looks like a police operation.

The record has been fine, the men perform in an efficient manner, and we have one of the best law and order programs working for the people in the State of New York.

The Conservative Party has studied all the candidates and, without exception, has made an effort to present the best choice for the public. Our group, in some cases, offers the ONLY choice for those interested in holding the line on government spending.

From Jim Buckley, right on down to our city candidates for office, we offer the best reasons for voting Conservative. Those people who have made a study of the issues and the qualifications must agree.

Highland

HIGHLAND—Under the sponsorship of the Town of Lloyd Recreation Committee the annual Halloween party for children of the community will be given this year on the evening of Thursday, Oct. 31, at the Highland Elementary School. The children will assemble at the town parking lot at 6:15 to prepare for the parade, at 6:30 the line will move out, and parade to the school where at 7 o'clock a grand march will be held and the costumes judged with prizes for the prettiest, funniest, most original, most gruesome, best couple and best group. Cartoons will be shown and there will be dancing for the teens from 8:30 to 10:30. Refreshments will be served. Assisting the Recreation Committee will be the Parent-Teachers Association, Lloyd Post 193 American Legion, American Legion Ladies Auxiliary, Lloyd Rod and Gun Club and the board of education.

Election Day will be a busy one at the Highland Presbyterian Church. The annual pancake dinner will be served and there will also be a sale of baked goods, homemade soup and Christmas articles. Activities start at 10 a.m. and conclude at 7 p.m.

Lloyd town board will hold a public hearing on the preliminary budget for the operation of the town in 1969 at the Town Hall on Friday night, Nov. 1.

The annual Town of Lloyd Republican dinner will be held on Sunday, Nov. 3, at Spero's Restaurant. Hors d'oeuvres will be served from 5 and 6 and a steak dinner at 6:30. Tickets may be obtained from Edward Gona, president of the Town of Lloyd Republican Club or from Mrs. Virginia Meuser.

The women of the First Methodist Church of Highland have completed arrangements for the Christmas fair to be held at the church Friday, Nov. 22. A businessman's luncheon and supper will be served. Members working on that day are Mrs. John Castellano Jr., Mrs. Harry Cotant Jr., Mrs. Russell Rose, Mrs. Thomas Russell, Mrs. Howard Perkins, Robert Casper, Robert Earnshaw, Mrs. John F. Wadlin, Mrs. Peter Burdush, Mrs. U. Parker Decker, Mrs. Jacob Schuhle, Mrs. Gerald Jones, Mrs. John Mack, Mrs. William Maynard, Howard Sigglekow, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Andersen, Mrs. William Rhinehart. Fair starts at 10 a.m. and ends at 9 p.m.

The Women of Holy Trinity will hold an Election Day Sale of baked goods and homemade vegetable soup at the parish house, Grand Street. Sale starts at 8 a.m. and lasts until sold out.

The class graduated from Highland High School in 1958 held a reunion dinner and dance Saturday night at the Oddo House on Clintondale Road. The committee making the arrangements was Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Burfeindt, Mrs. Valentino Cappel, Frank Rinaudo, Mr. and Mrs. John Mazzetti.

Benjamin Bragg and a party of friends are staying at his camp at Good Enow Flow in the Adirondacks while deer hunting. Mrs. Nelson Christiansa has named forty canvassers who are assisting in the 1968 fund drive for the Girl Scouts. The goal set for Algonkian Neighborhood is $900.

A Halloween party and old fashioned barn dance was held Saturday night at the Lloyd Methodist Church Hall sponsored by the Ladies Aid Society of the church.

Lloyd Town Board will hold a meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 13 at the Town Hall with Supervisor Thomas Shay Jr. presiding.

The Highland Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star has cancelled the regular meeting to have been held on Tuesday, Nov. 12, so that members might attend a special meeting at Windham. Tickets for the dinner given by Highland Chapter at Blossom Farm Inn, Milton, are available from Mrs. Mae Parks or Mrs. Florence Bantel.

The meeting of Mid-Hudson Senior Citizens scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 5, has been cancelled because of Election Day. The next regular meeting will be Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19, at the Education Building of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Nellie Harris presiding. The group celebrated its first anniversary with a luncheon Tuesday at Dominick's in New Paltz.

The final class for the Volunteer Fire Police will be held Thursday night at Highland Hose House. The training sessions have been arranged by the local fire police in cooperation with the Ulster County Volunteer Fire Police.

David Campbell who attends Panwood School at White Plains spent the weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Campbell of New Paltz Road.

WILL START MARCH — Vernon Churchwell, Ulster Area Muscular Dystrophy poster child, who will be at City Hall Saturday, Nov. 2, at 10 a. m. to start the Wheelbarrow March from Kingston to Saugerties. (Photo Workshop).

MD March Will Start At City Hall Nov. 2

Candidates of both parties running for election locally and at the state level have been invited to take part in the kickoff for the Muscular Dystrophy Wheelbarrow March from Kingston to Saugerties scheduled for Saturday at 10 a. m. at City Hall.

Starting the march at City Hall with Vernon Churchwell, Ulster Area's MD poster child will be Dr. Gerald Gorman, Democratic candidate for the State Assembly.

He became interested in the Muscular Dystrophy program when he operated on a local MD child.

Ulster County Sheriff William Martin's deputies will lead the parade followed by John Collins, father for an MD child who has already lost a son to the disease.

Collins will push the wheelbarrow to Saugerties from Kingston with the assistance of a "gorilla" helper.

The line of march will start up Broadway from City Hall to the Gov. Clinton Hotel, right on Clinton Avenue to Kingston Shopping Plaza, then to North Front Street, Crown, Pearl, Wall, North Front, right to Fair, Pearl, to the Albany Avenue Extension to 9W north to Saugerties.

The parade will be welcomed at the Saugerties Town line by Village of Saugerties Mayor Neil Cox.

While announcing the parade plans, the Ulster Area Chapter extended its sincere thanks and appreciation to all who contributed to make their recent Penny Social a success.

Other dignitaries attending the kickoff march will be announced shortly the chapter said.

Officers Are Installed For Hurley Post of VFW

The newly organized Hurley Memorial Post 5086, Veterans of Foreign Wars which recently elected its first officers at Hurley Firehouse, held installation ceremonies Sunday at the firehouse. Installing officer was Bernard Nolan of Saugerties Memorial Post, past commander of Hudson Valley Counties Council. He was assisted by HVCC Commander Earl Paul.

The officers are James L. McCutcheon, commander; Charles A. Kelder, senior vice commander; Camille Thibodeau, junior vice commander; Raymond Snyder, quartermaster; Alex Benishake, chaplain; John E. Howard, judge advocate; Joseph Bohn, surgeon and trustees William Manley, Vincent Crantz and Amos Hamilton.

Special guests included James Veach, Second District commander; Mrs. Judy Lane, past department president; Miss Vivian Hughes from the Second District; Mrs. William Jordan, past president of Hudson Valley County Council; Thomas Hughes, district adjutant and Sidney Lane of Joyce-Schirick Post.

A committee from Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, VFW, Kingston started to organize the new post in July.

There are 29 charter members including the officers.

They are William V. Atkinson, Albert J. Cahoon, William H. Clark, Joseph J. Dugan, Cornelius H. Dumond, Earle H. Foster, Joseph C. Gancarz, John E. Gillen, Donald P. Graham, Amos J. Hamilton, Kenneth W. Hopper Sr., Clarence R. Jansen, Randall D.

Rose, Schafer Bridge Winners

Al Rose and Ephraim Schafer scored an impressive 64 per cent game to win the fractional-point game held recently by the Jewish Community Center Duplicate Bridge Club. Twenty-one boards were in play.

Second was the team of Max Lawrence and Dr. Murray Fletcher who earned a 62 per cent game. Placing third was Mrs. John Olivet and Mrs. Andrew Dykes with 55 per cent. Mrs. Samuel Levine and Robert Yallum were fourth with a 54 per cent game.

The fifth game in the center's fall series is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the center on Maiden Lane.

The center is starting a weekly novice duplicate bridge game, for players with fewer than 20 master points, on Monday, Nov. 4, at 7:30 p. m. at the center.

A beginner's refresher class will be conducted on Wednesday starting Nov. 6 from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

What a bore!
Their color TV is out at the shop again...

Be bored no more!

Get the Color TV with the works in a drawer.

The works in a drawer: 10 tubeless solid-state mini-circuits for solid dependability. Quasar is Color TV that stays at home working, not in the repair shop.

The solid-state mini-circuit. It plugs in in your home in minutes.

Have you been a color TV holdout? A little afraid of all the service problems? Hold out no more. Look into Quasar...color TV with the works in a drawer.

Just what is it that's made Quasar worth waiting for? (Other than a beautiful picture, great color and style?) Two important things. The dependability of solid state electronics. And fast, at-home service you can only get when the works are in a drawer.

In Quasar, most components except the rectifier and picture tube are solid-state. They're tubeless mini-circuits...designed to work without burning themselves out. They plug in in minutes, if service is ever needed.

A serviceman simply opens the drawer at the front of the set. Snaps in a replacement circuit. Closes the drawer. And that's it. You might miss the kickoff and part of the first half, but not much more. In most cases service is handled in your home, not the shop.

So, why look for another excuse? Go to your Motorola dealer and look into Quasar instead. We're so impressed with Quasar reliability, we've guaranteed it (everything, picture tube and chassis parts) for two years.

Bet you'll be impressed, too.

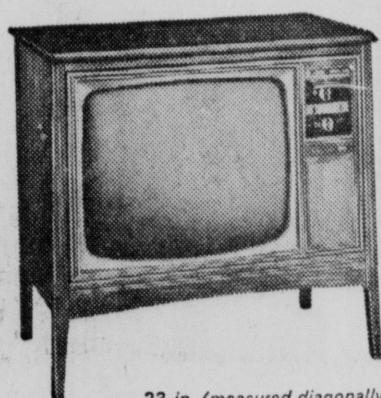

Two Year Registered Guarantee on Picture Tube and All Parts
Original owner guarantee covers free exchange or repair of parts proven defective in normal use. Arranged through selling dealers. Labor and transportation extra. Guarantee not valid unless guarantee card mailed to Motorola within ten days after delivery of set.

EXTRA! New Motorola Electronic Remote Control! Remarkable and unique. Solid state! Solid reliability! Silent color and sound control! See it!

QuasarTM Color TV by MOTOROLA[®]

KINGSTON INDIAN HONORS — Three members of the Kingston Indians Drum and Bugle Corps were accorded special honors at the annual banquet of the Troop 12 and Kingston Indians Corps held Saturday night at Elmer's Inn, Ruby. Left to right, George Cole was named Rookie of the Year; Thomas Kelly, Corpsman of the Year, and Raymond Teitter, Most Reliable Member.

Kelly, Naccarato Gain Awards From Troop 12

Two hundred and twenty-six Kingston Indians Drum and Bugle Corps members, parents, friends, and members of the Troop 12 and the annual banquet saw Thomas Kelly receive the Kingston Indians "Corpsman of the Year" trophy, and Larry Naccarato named "Corpsman of the Year" of the Troop 12 Indians.

"First time in 3 years came out spotless."

Betty Smolter
100 Spencer Lane
Glenshaw, Pa.

The banquet, which was held Saturday night at Elmer's Inn, Ruby, was the most successful ever held.

Warren Jansen, David Naccarato, and Daniel Winderoth received their graduation trophies from the Troop 12 Indians Director Burt Ellis, and was accepted into the Kingston Indians by Director Ralph Shapiro. Instructors for Troop 12, John Sottile, Thomas Kelly, David Jackson, Douglas Ellsworth, Charles Buboltz, Barry Jackson, William Reynolds, Ray Teitter and Ray DuBois were awarded special trophies by Ellis.

Indians Week Chairman Addison Jones presented officers trophies to Drum Major William Ellis, Color Guard Captain James Kelly, Horn Sergeant Warren Jansen and Drum Sergeant Carl Brown of the junior corps, and to Drum Major "Chick" Buboltz, Assistant Drum Major John Sottile, Color Guard Captain Peter Wells, Guard Sergeant William Reynolds, Horn Sergeant Ray DuBois, and Drum Sergeant Douglas Ellsworth of the senior unit.

Pow Wow Program Chairman Gilbert Sampson awarded "booster" prizes to 24 members of both corps for their outstanding job in securing boosters, and Treasurer James Gemmell presented prizes to Phil Howver and George Cole, both for selling over a 100 dozen doughnuts each, during that fund-raising campaign.

Boys seeking membership in either of these corps should attend a rehearsal at the Bethany Hall of Old Dutch Church on Monday evening, or Sunday afternoon at the stadium, or Sunday night at the municipal auditorium as soon as possible, as quotas for both corps are just about full. The Indians plan to wind up their membership drive November 4.

Beret Veteran Joins Benedictine

Sister Mary Charles, administrator of Benedictine Hospital has announced the appointment of four new members to the Benedictine staff.

In making these appointments, Sister Mary Charles emphasized the primary objective of the hospital is to provide the greatest possible service to patients and to the community by adding depth to the organization through staffing with the most qualified personnel available. Through these additions, in Sister Mary Charles' opinion, the hospital's objective will be greatly enhanced.

Joining the staff is John Lewis, food service manager, who attended the University of Illinois, where he majored in Business Administration. He comes to Benedictine with a broad background in the hospital field, having most recently held the position of Assistant Food Director for Crotty Brothers of Boston, Mass. and also having spent 12 years on the dietary staffs of several government hospitals.

In Korea, Vietnam

Lewis served with the U.S. Army during both the Korean conflict and in Vietnam, having been attached with the Special Forces Division, the Green Berets. During his tours of duty, Lewis was the recipient of three Purple Hearts, the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star and others and was discharged with the rank of master sergeant.

At an early age an interest was developed in the culinary world, at which time Lewis attended the Metropolitan Vocational School where he majored in cooking and baking. He holds a membership in the National Food Director's Association.

Lewis will soon be married to Miss A. M. Pugh of Nutley, N.J. The future Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will be making their home in the Kingston area.

Former Paratrooper

Also joining the staff at this time is Adam Panarese, Chief Engineer, who is a graduate of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn with a degree in Mechanical Engineering. In addition to his industrial background he has had several years experience with hospitals in the Metropolitan area. Panarese retired from the Paratroopers with the rank of Major after having served during World War II and the Korean conflict. He was the recipient of two Purple Hearts, the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Panarese are the parents of twin sons, both of whom are presently serving in the United States Air Force.

Wawarsing
Renews Option
On Property

Wawarsing Supervisor Frank W. Harkin announced that the township has renewed its option on the Floyd Van Gorder property.

This is the area which has been proposed for a town park. Application for federal and state funding for the program has been in the hands of the Palisades Interstate Park Commission since last March, according to the supervisor.

Harkin emphasized, however, that, "Funds have not yet been forthcoming."

He also said that the town's option on the Van Gorder property would have terminated on Oct. 24.

"Through the cooperation of Mr. Van Gorder," Harkin declared, "the town council has been able to renew the option, thus placing the township in a favorable position for a park development when the requested funds are available."

Michael is attending the Air Force Academy in Denver, States. Mrs. Boden and the children are presently in Ber-muda, however, they will be residing in the Kingston area.

Michael is attending the Air Force Academy in Denver, States. Mrs. Boden and the children are presently in Ber-muda, however, they will be residing in the Kingston area.

Other Additions

Mrs. Betty Ferdinand, therapeutic dietitian, is a graduate of Cornell University where she obtained her Master of Science Degree majoring in Household Economics and Management. Mrs. Ferdinand completed her undergraduate studies at Bennett College in Greensboro, N.C., where she obtained her Bachelor of Science Degree with a major in Home Economics. Mrs. Ferdinand presently holds a membership with the American Home Economics Association.

While at Cornell University, she was a member of the Honor Society and a member of Alpha Kappa Mu. At that time she worked as a Graduate Teaching Assistant which included counseling as well as assignments in her chosen field.

Mrs. Ferdinand will assist Lewis and Miss Susan Chang, A.D.A., in the therapeutic functions of the hospital's Dietary Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand are residing in the Kingston area and Mr. Ferdinand is on the staff of the International Business Machines Corporation. James Boden, Staff Pharmacist, is a graduate of St. John's University of Brooklyn, where he received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Pharmacy. Boden, for the past seven years, has served as chief of pharmacy at the King Edward VII Memorial Hospital in Carrick Point, Paget, Bermuda and was a post that was originated by him.

Boden is a Registered State of New York Pharmacist and prior to his hospital work he practiced in pharmacies in New York State and in Bermuda. He will be working under the directorship of the hospital's Chief Pharmacist, Leo Bigler. Boden is a member of the American Pharmaceutical Association and a member of the American Society of Hospital Pharmacists.

Mr. and Mrs. Boden are the parents of three sons and when recent restrictive immigration laws were adopted, it was

Today you are 108 years old...and we're proud of you! Way back in 1912...56 years ago...you founded the first Girl Scout troop consisting of only 18 girls. You captured the imagination of American girls with your idea about "girl scouts." Today, over 3 1/2 million members are a living tribute to the legacy you—Juliette Gordon Low—gave to girls of the U.S.A.

October 31st is a day to remember for all Girl Scouts. We, as an Equipment Agency, are happy to have a part in serving this great movement, and we join the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. in celebrating your birthday.

GEORGE SAVATGY JR. — son of George and Alice Savatgy of Cottekill, enlisted with the Army for a three year period, according to SFC Keene, the local Army recruiter, with a written guarantee of training in the Mechanical Maintenance Career Group, after completion of his basic combat training. Savatgy graduated with the class of '68, Kingston High School.

Navy Seabees Seeking Construction Recruits

The current U. S. Navy Seabee "Top Rates to Top Men" Direct Procurement Petty Officer Recruitment program already has enlisted 3,094 Seabees and is still open to America's finest constructionmen!

The Direct Procurement program provides an outstanding opportunity for skilled men to fulfill their military obligation while gaining increased experience in their trade.

Qualified volunteer civilian construction workers, regardless of race, creed, or national origin, can join the Seabees with advanced rates.

Volunteers sign up at any Navy recruiting office for a Seabee 30-month tour of duty. At the time, they directly are given Petty Officer ratings, based on their qualifications.

The current drive for skilled construction volunteers is the result of build-up in Seabee forces in Southeast Asia. In Vietnam, the famed Seabees are playing a critical role in support of the combat Marines. Seabee accomplishments are becoming legendary as they lay "instant" airstrips, build roads, drill wells, construct buildings and waterfront facilities, and operate and maintain complex construction and transportation equipment.

Any man who has been a civilian constructionman apprentice for 24 months, or has 24 months of experience, can enlist in the Seabees as a Petty Officer 3rd Class.

A constructionman with 48 months training and experience (normally, a journeyman) can be a Petty Officer 2nd Class.

A more senior worker can be a Petty Officer 1st Class, if he has seven years experience — some of it at the Foreman or Master level.

Workers with still greater experience can be rated as Chief Petty Officers. All candidates must be under 40 years of age.

The Seabee volunteer bypasses the usual "boot camp" that a regular Navy recruit attends. Instead the Seabee goes directly to the Construction Battalion Center at Gulfport, Mississippi. There, he attends a special school, where he learns about the Navy and his responsibilities as a Navy Petty Officer.

After a month at Gulfport, the new Seabee Petty Officer is given a leave before reporting for duty to one of the Navy's three huge Construction Battalion Centers — at Gulfport (Mississippi), Davisville (Rhode Island), or Port Huene (California).

At the Construction Battalion Center, he receives further training and is assigned to a Construction Battalion. His Battalion spends about eight months on a construction job overseas; returns to its home base for six months of further training and outfitting; then, deploys overseas for another eight-month tour of duty.

A Seabee works in his construction specialty and gets 36 days paid leave each year.

SEABEE specialties are: BU — builder, CE — construction electrician, CM — construction mechanic, EO — equipment operator, SW — steelworker, UT — utilities man.

BRUCE HUGHES

GEORGE E. FETTY JR.

Hughes, Fetty End Basic at Lackland AFB

Two local Air Force men have graduated from basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas.

They are Bruce W. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hughes of 98 Hurley Avenue and George F. Fetty Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Fetty of Saugerties.

Airman Fetty has been assigned to the Air Force technical school at Chanute AFB in Illinois for training as a weather equipment repairman. He is a graduate of Saugerties High School and attended Ulster County Community College.

Airman Hughes will report to the Air Force technical training center at Lowry AFB in Colorado for training as a supply specialist. He is a 1968 graduate of Kingston High School.

Enlists in Army

WALTER LYONS — son of Loretta Lyons of 14 Merritt Avenue enlisted in the Army for a three year period, according to SFC Keene, the local Army Recruiter, with a written guarantee of training in the Field Artillery Missiles Career Group, after completion of his basic combat training.

In The Service

STEPHEN DIAMOND — son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diamond of 25 Charlotte Street, is enjoying a leave at home with his parents between assignments from basic training at Fort Dix, N. J., and the Army's Missile School at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala. He enlisted July 15, according to the local Army recruiting sergeant, SFC Edward J. Keene. He was guaranteed training at the Army's Combat Missiles Systems Repair School after completing his basic combat training. Before entering the Army, Diamond graduated from Our Lady of Lourdes High School in Poughkeepsie and attended Ulster County Community College where he studied Mechanical Technology. He also was employed by the City Engineer's Office.

John Becker

Aviation Anti-submarine Warfare Technician Airman John A. Becker, USN, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Becker of Gardiner, participated in the recovery of Apollo 7 while serving with Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 32. The squadron's search planes were on board the antisubmarine warfare aircraft carrier USS Essex, the prime Atlantic Fleet recovery ship. A unit of Task Force 140, the carrier was positioned some 200 miles Southeast of Bermuda.

Vincent Immediato

Marine Corporal Vincent J. Immediato, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Immediato of Route 3, Kingston, is serving with Marine Composite Reconnaissance Squadron-One in Vietnam. A unit of the First Marine Aircraft Wing, his squadron flies three types of jet aircraft. The squadron conducts day and night aerial photographic reconnaissance, electronic reconnaissance, and electronics and communications countermeasures.

Michael Contini

Seaman Apprentice Michael J. Contini, USN, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Contini of Main Street, Esopus, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here, Great Lakes, Ill.

Alfred Lasher

Army Private Alfred H. Lasher Jr., 19, whose parents live on Route 4, Kingston, was assigned as an avionics equipment repairman with the 245th Surveillance Airplane Company near Da Nang, Vietnam, Sept. 27.

Peter Weeks

Peter F. Weeks, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks Jr., Nanapanoch, was promoted to Army Specialist Four Oct. 5 while serving as a rifleman in the 4th Infantry Division near Pleiku, Vietnam.

MINOR CHANGE — Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kreie of Forked River, N. Ike Pens Note To First Class At His College

SENECA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower says he wrote off as "improbable" the thought that "I might reach the venerable age of 78."

The former President made the observation in a letter to students at Eisenhower College, a four-year, liberal arts institution that opened its doors this fall.

In the letter, to be published Thursday in the school's newspaper, Eisenhower wrote:

"Despite the formidable number of years I have been marking October 14th as an annual milestone, each birthday has at least one new and fresh element in the letters and messages I receive. This year it was the greetings from you, the charter class of Eisenhower College."

"I must say that when I was your age the thought that I might reach the venerable age of 78, if it entered my mind, was instantly written off as improbable; and in my most fantastic imaginings I am sure I never entertained for a moment so absurd a notion as a college named after me."

Sen. Kennedy Aide New Paltz Speaker

The former press secretary to the late Senator Robert Kennedy will open a student government lecture series tomorrow evening at 8 p. m. at the New Paltz State University College.

Frank Mankiewicz, now a syndicated columnist in Washington, D.C., will deliver a talk entitled, "Politics '68."

Senator Kennedy's aide gained world-wide attention early this summer with news reports on the shooting of the Senator during his campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Formerly with the Peace Corps in Latin America from 1962-1966, Mankiewicz was the director of the Peru program from '62-'64, and was elevated to the directorship of the entire Latin American program for the Peace Corps from '64 to '66.

Mankiewicz was then chosen as press secretary for Senator Kennedy, a post he held until the Senator's assassination in June.

Mankiewicz served as an NBC correspondent covering the Republican convention in Miami. He then became a delegate from California to the Democratic national convention in Chicago where he served as a key aide to Senator George McGovern in the latter's bid for the Presidential nomination.

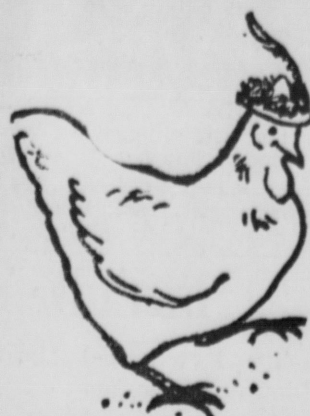

The lecture will be given in the Main Building auditorium and a reception will follow in the Student Union lounge.

Other speakers in the student-sponsored series will include Hugh Shonfeld, author of "The Passover Plot," on Nov. 20, and Dick Gregory, Freedom and Peace Party candidate for President, on Dec. 9.

Tickets for the Mankiewicz address can be obtained at the door of the Main auditorium on the night of the talk, and at the College Union Building today and Thursday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The Show Goes On—TV Musicians Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Musicians' struck the three major television networks today in a dispute over wages and job security but the walkout was not expected to have any immediate effect on most musical and variety shows.

The American Federation of Musicians, AFL-CIO, said pickets were set today for 13 television studios in New York and Los Angeles, where most of the shows are prepared, and in Miami Beach where the Jackie Gleason show originates.

Involved in the strike are 800 musicians who work for the National Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co. The walkout began officially at 12:01 a. m.

NBC said the Johnny Carson

Tonight show would go on as planned today as would all other scheduled programming. John Gilroy, acting producer for the Tonight Show, said, "We'll do a show. We won't have any live music obviously."

A CBS spokesman said the only contemplated change in scheduling is the substitution of a rebroadcast of a previous Ed Sullivan show Sunday in place of a live program.

And ABC said it expected no interruptions in its programming including the Dick Cavett, Joey Bishop and pre-taped Lawrence Welk shows.

The musicians union, whose contract with the networks expired July 31, is seeking an immediate raise of $64 a week, plus a 10 per cent raise the second year of the contract and a 5 per cent raise the third year.

The union rejected a network offer of a $40 raise over a three-year contract. The musicians now earn a top minimum of $257.50 a week.

Herman Kenin, international president of the union, said pickets would be removed during the broadcast or taping of programs by political candidates.

Alcoholism 4th In Ranks of Serious Illnes

The Ulster County Association for Mental Health says that according to a recent report, alcoholism is the fourth most serious illness in the nation and causes "a staggering four billion dollar erosion of America's growth each year."

In the report, issued by the New York State Department of Health, alcoholism is ranked fourth behind heart disease, cancer and mental health.

About 2.7 million alcoholics work in American industry, says the report, and each one directly affects at least three other people - spouse, child and employer.

American industry, the report continues, calculates an annual cost of four billion dollars traceable to the disease. The figure is based on lost time at work, loss of training trained personnel, sick benefits and off the job accidents.

Private industry absorbs the cost by raising product prices, says the report, and public employment passes the costs onto the taxpayer.

It is estimated in the report that alcoholism programs of industry and government have a recovery rate of some 65 per cent.

Exams Open For PO Jobs

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk announced recently that U. S. Civil Service Examinations are open to any person over 17 years old to work for the Post Office Department.

Postal jobs that are open to both men and women, who can meet the requirements, start at $2.95 per hour, he said. An additional 10 per cent premium pay for hours between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. is also offered.

Anyone 17 years old may take the test, he said, although appointments can not be made until successful applicants reach the age of 18. There is no maximum age limit, he said.

Anyone interested in taking the examination, which is good for positions in any Post Office in the United States, should contact Leo Darwak, Main Post Office, 90 Cornell Street.

Papandreu III

ATHENS (UPI)—Former Premier George Papandreu suffered a gastric hemorrhage Tuesday night and was reported in serious condition. Papandreu, 80, has been under a form of house arrest at his villa much of the time since the April, 1967, takeover by the Greek military regime.

Theodore Lettvin Gives Brilliant Concert in Kingston

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

Despite all complications surrounding Community Concert Association's first concert of the new season, last night's performance by Theodore Lettvin was just brilliant.

Replacing the originally scheduled artist Jorge Bollet, who is hospitalized, Lettvin gave a superb performance displaying piano artistry coupled with an extremely pleasant stage personality. He introduced new colors to his playing liberating each note with relish and sheer enjoyment making the concert doubly enjoyable for the audience. In his verbal "program notes" preceding each selection, Lettvin was clear, precise and charmingly witty.

The concert pianist was actually making his second Kingston appearance. He was here in 1954 with the Buffalo Philharmonic.

This concert piano virtuoso, who made his orchestral debut at the young age of 12, approaches the keyboard with vigor, confidence, pride, even humor. Lettvin has a talent for unmasking elusive qualities of the piano and his spectacular technique makes the instrument vibrate and the listener stare in amazement.

Lettvin is all things in his interpretation of music — poetic, humorous, severe, demanding. In the least compelling passages to the most strenuous for an artist of his calibre, he is a compelling force. He seems to like Prokofiev's music for he selected one of his compositions for the concert portion and as an encore. He, no doubt, appreciates the sardonic mockery to be found in Prokofiev's music and while Prokofiev may not enjoy massive popularity with the average listener, there is much to say for his extraordinary gift of carving themes, for introducing sparkling, almost athletic-type rhythms.

Lettvin opened last night's concert with the Brahms "Rhapsody in E flat Major, Opus 119." He gave power and strength to this selection. In the "Ten Small Piano Pieces, Opus 12," by Prokofiev, he vigorously outlined a variety of moods. In Beethoven's "Thirty-Two Variations in C Minor," Lettvin seemed to explore the entire range of pianistic writing expressing moods from meditation to drama.

Carl Maria von Weber's "Sonata in C Major" was, in my opinion, the finest work of the evening. From the Allegro movement to the final Rondo and its near impossible runs, this work showed the genius of Lettvin's keyboard gymnastics. Chopin, of course, is always popular. The two Chopin selections speak with a rich and varied language giving them a wide range of color and dynamics.

Mr. Lettvin was born in Chicago and began his musical studies at the age of four with his mother, a piano teacher. His sister and two brothers were also studying music and to say Philharmonic under Stinberg. During the past 18 years Mr. Lettvin has appeared in more than 800 concerts. He is, at present, a professor of piano at his wife and three children the New England Conservatory when he is not concertizing.

Mr. Lettvin made his orchestral debut at the age of 12 playing the Mendelssohn Concerto with the Chicago Symphony under the baton of the late Frederick Stock.

When he was 15 years old, he won a scholarship to the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia where he studied for the next seven years with two world renowned artists, Mieczyslaw Horowitz and Rudolf Serkin.

His career was interrupted by World War II when he joined the U. S. Navy. Mr. Lettvin went on a concert tour that took him to many parts of the world and won for him many national and international recognitions and awards including the Naumburg and Michael's Memorial Awards. He was also acclaimed Laureate of the Queen Elizabeth of Belgium Contest. In addition to his recital tours, Mr. Lettvin appeared regularly with the major orchestras of the United States. Among them were the New York Philharmonic and the Orchestras of Cleveland, Chicago, Boston, Dallas, Cincinnati and Buffalo, where he was an apprentice-conductor under William Steinberg. He appeared at the inauguration of the New York Philharmonic Promenades in the summer of 1964 with Andre Kostelanetz who invited him to return the gathered to pay honor to 50-year member Thomas L. Cloonan, center, who celebrated his 89th birthday. A faithful member throughout the years, Mr. Cloonan stated he "wasn't sure but I might have missed one meeting." Principals included in the large attendance were (l-r) Charles A. Ryan, grand knight; Edmund T. Cloonan, the honored guest's son who is superintendent of Water Department, City of Kingston; Mr. Cloonan; Loretta Ahl, supreme director of Columbian; George F. McNamara, district deputy. Installation of officers was held Monday evening also in Mr. Cloonan's honor. The cake arrangement on the table signifies the guest's 89th year. (Freeman photo by Powell)

Four Represent Paltz Auxiliary At District Meet

Delegates to the Third District Conference of the American Legion Auxiliary from Sullivan-Shafer Unit No. 176, New Paltz, were the following:

Mrs. Margaret Coats, Mrs. Corel VanDeMark, Mrs. Edna L. Branigan and Mrs. Delia T. Shaw.

The meeting in Troy, N.Y., was conducted by Mrs. Joseph D. Dougherty, third district chairman. Department officers introduced were Mrs. John Mazzie, Bethpage, L.I., president; Mrs. William E. Robinson, Poughkeepsie, vice president; Mrs. Herman G. Harrington, Rensselaer, vice president; and Mrs. James P. Coyle, Bronx, vice president. Ulster County Day at the Albany Veterans Hospital will be on Monday, Dec. 2. On that day members of Auxiliary units throughout the county will assist disabled veterans in addressing greeting cards and in selecting gifts for members of their families.

ANNUAL DINNER—The Altar-Rosary Society of St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, held its annual banquet Sunday, Oct. 27, at Flamingo Restaurant. Among those attending were (l-r) Mrs. Helen Cashara, treasurer; the Rev. Joseph Santolin, moderator and parish priest; the Rev. Paul Sullivan, assistant pastor, St. Catherine Laboure's Church, Lake Katrine, guest speaker; Mrs. Judy Cachillo, president; Mrs. Roselyn Riccio, vice president; Mrs. Thelma Vorisek, not pictured, is secretary. Father Sullivan explained the importance of the Altar-Rosary Society, stressing the help the Society provides to the parish priest. Considering his background as a Trappist Monk, he also explained the difference between the Monastic life as compared to that of a Diocesan priest in a parish. The Society is open to all ladies of the parish. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Palace Brochure Outlines Ways To Greet Queen

By MARGARET SAVILLE

LONDON (UPI)—When Queen Elizabeth II is presented with a bouquet of flowers, she prefers them to be light-scented. A heavy perfume will set her sneezing.

When traveling abroad, she is happy if her host refrains from putting caviar on the menu because she does not like it.

When conversing with a stranger, she does not mind if asked a direct question so long as the subject is not of an overly personal nature.

These snippets of information are culled from a brochure which Buckingham Palace sends out to the British embassies concerned when the queen goes abroad, as for her state visit to Chile and Brazil in November with her husband, Prince Philip.

The information is intended to be passed on tactfully to the several thousand people who are presented to the queen on such a visit or who entertain her.

Protocol naturally is formal but is not as elaborate or complicated as the public often supposes.

On introduction to the queen and Philip, their hands are not actually shaken but the fingers simply touched in token of greeting or the royal couple would have sprained wrists from greeting so many.

Gentlemen are expected to give a normal bow as they take the royal hand. Ladies give what is known at court as "a short curtsy," a little dip made by placing the left foot just behind the right and inclining the head. The old-style, floor-touching curtsy was abolished because it takes too long for the lady to go down and rise again. The deep dip slowed the receiving line.

The queen wears gloves, usually white ones, on outdoor occasions and with evening dress. She prefers other women do the same because so much hand-shake is involved, but would never refuse to meet a woman whose hands were bare. Most men like to wear gloves for the same reason.

Elizabeth always takes a wardrobe of new clothes with her to compliment her hosts. Guests do not have to follow suit by buying a new outfit but they should be dressed fittingly. Very low-cut dresses always are considered inappropriate.

Conversation with the queen and Philip is an easy, natural thing. Both are skilled in leading it. Etiquette allows them to be asked direct questions so long as they are not too personal.

Would-be hosts are told that the queen's tastes are simple. Neither she nor the prince likes soups, oysters, other shellfish or caviar.

Tessie on TV Again

This Thursday at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 5, Theresa (Tessie) Mayone of Glasco will be seen on the Merv Griffin show for the second time.

On Monday, Oct. 28, Tessie and a group of area residents attended the show and while she was not called to the stage this time, she did conduct a conversation with Griffin.

Mrs. Thomas Mayone, wife of the GOP candidate for sheriff in Ulster County, was asked to stand up and be recognized.

For years, Theresa Mayone has conducted various bus trips and pilgrimages and is a well known personality throughout Ulster County.

Helpful Hints

Some good cooks like to drop hard-cooked eggs, after they have been peeled into salted water. A half teaspoon of salt to a pint of cold water is a good measurement for half a dozen eggs; let the eggs stand in the salted water for about 10 minutes. This treatment makes eggs taste especially good.

When you are freezing sliced cooked turkey or chicken, package the slices close together so they won't dry out. That the poultry should be wrapped tightly in moisture-vaporproof paper goes without saying.

Honey can be used in small amounts in yeast bread without changing the making process. About twice as much honey can be used in a dark bread as in a white bread.

Cooking acid foods like tomatoes and apples in an aluminum pan gives the pan a bright inside surface. The outside of the pan can be brightened by using a soap-filled steel wool pad.

If heat turned that cooking chocolate in your cupboard white, don't throw it out. If the chocolate is melted for cooking purposes, it will turn brown again and usually there's no loss of flavor.

If you freeze homogenized milk, stir it a few times when you take it out of the freezer and it begins to thaw; the stirring will help keep it smooth. The milk should be frozen in a paper carton; you can count on it staying in good condition for a couple of months.

State's Consumer Services Listed in New Booklet

Publication of a new booklet, New York State Government Services to the Consumer, was announced today by Neal L. Moylan, First Deputy Commissioner of the New York State Department of Commerce.

Designed to acquaint consumers with consumer guidance, protection and other services available in various State departments, the booklet was prepared by the Commerce Department's Woman's Program under direction of Deputy Commissioner Guin Hall.

In a foreword to the publication, Governor Rockefeller states: "Today, New York State's consumers can trust the integrity of the great majority of our merchants. And the State stands ready to protect consumers in a variety of ways against the unscrupulous few."

Consumer protection functions of State departments listed in the book include:

Department of Agriculture and Markets — enforces laws on purity and safety of dairy products, frozen desserts, food additives, soil and plant inoculants and pesticides. It licenses and inspects meat and milk processing plants, and sets standards for grades of various food products.

Banking Department — supervises banks and lending institutions and administers State law regarding retail installment sales.

Commerce Department — sponsors community consumer meetings, produces consumer assembly programs for high schools, develops special consumer education projects for adult groups, conducts adult and teenage shopping habit surveys, and provides travel information on all parts of the State.

Conservation Department — supervises commercial shellfishing and maintains State parks and camping sites.

Education Department — issues professional licenses, including doctors, dentists, nurses, druggists, accountants and architects. Licenses correspondence schools and provides a consumer education curriculum for high schools.

Health Department — sets public health policies, and plans an executes public health programs in medical care and environmental health fields, including public water supplies, air and water pollution, sewage and rodent control.

Insurance Department — supervises the insurance business, including regulation of premium rates and approval of policy forms.

Department of Law — protects the consumer from fraudulent practices by merchants, regulates charitable solicitations and stocks, bonds and real estate securities.

Department of State — licenses real estate brokers, licenses and sets standards for barbers and beauticians, manufacturers of bedding and upholstered furniture, steamship ticket agencies and billiard rooms. Also, regulates boxing and wrestling, and thoroughbred and harness racing.

Public Service Commission — Has jurisdiction over public utilities, rates and services and inspects gas and electric meters for accuracy and bus and railroad equipment for safety.

Copies of New York State Government Services to the Consumer may be obtained from the State Department of Commerce, 112 State Street, Albany 12207 or from any of the Department's branch or regional offices.

Coleman Rally Edges Roosevelt High, 3-2

John A. Coleman High booters rallied with three goals in a freezing rain in the last quarter to score a surprise 3-2 victory over undefeated Roosevelt High of Hyde Park Tuesday in a home contest.

The Presidents had won 12 straight games before they ran into the Coleman buzzsaw in the final period. The victory was the fifth against three losses for Coach Robert Carroll's squad.

Inside right Dave Kren booted about two unassisted goals from home 10 feet and center forward Bill Dunbar picked up the third goal, also unassisted, for the third score in the period.

"We suddenly came to life," said a jubilant Coach Carroll. "Roosevelt picked up single goals in the first and second periods and we appeared to be out of it until the explosion."

The Coleman squad was scheduled to close out its 1968 season today against Storm King Prep at the Coleman field.

Coach Carroll said goalie Don Hastings did a fine job in the nets, finishing with 18 saves and holding the fort well in the second half.

The Coleman lineup:

Goalie - Don Hastings; RFB: Pete Wells; CFB-Mike Weber; LFB-Tom Sullivan; RHB-Mike McGregor; CHB-George Stubb; LHB-Dennis Howard; IL-Mark Weber; OL-Richard Castaldo; CF-Bill Dunbar; IR-Dave Kren; OR-Ferdie Croce.

SU Hawks Win Fifth Straight, 2-0

By DENNIS R. CARO
(Freeman Sports Staff)

NEW PALTZ—The Oneonta soccer squad put on the finest defensive exhibition New Palitz coach Bobby Durkin has seen all year, here yesterday, but it didn't do them a bit of good.

The State University Hawks rolled to their fifth straight win and seventh consecutive game without a loss, 2-0, over the Red Dragons, slamming 46 shots at goal as they continued their late season drive toward a possible berth in the NCAA post season championship tournament for small colleges.

For 86 minutes and 10 seconds the only goal that separated the Hawks and Dragons was a second period penalty shot by sophomore inside right Bobby Hippy, his sixth without a miss from the penalty line and his 16th goal of the year.

The high-powered Hawk offense, slowed considerably by a cold drizzle in the first half, blasted away at Oneonta goalies Rich Dirmeyer and Owen O'Malley, but a strong wind carried their best shots off line.

The Red Dragon offense never got off the ground, and Tim Flannigan, playing his second complete game in the goal, was tested only twice.

In the third period, referee Bob Lake tossed New Palitz standout left wing Abdul Yunis out of the game for kicking an Oneonta player, and Hippy was removed for a similar offense in the final stanza.

But even with half the Hawk offense on the bench, Oneonta couldn't get on the scoreboard, as fullback Carlo Rischl continually booted the ball out of New Palitz territory.

Rischl, playing his finest game of the year, took up the slack for a sluggish Pete Kane, normally the defensive superlative for the Hawks, and late in the fourth period swung the ball deep into Oneonta territory to help set up the final New Palitz goal.

Ten seconds past the 20-minute mark of the final frame, Danny Greaves headed a free kick from Mal Hopper into the left corner of the goal, and the Dragons seemed to give up.

New Palitz dominated the game statistics, as the Hawks have in every game they have played this year despite two losses and a tie, and were awarded 10 corner kicks and a penalty kick to only three corner kicks for Oneonta.

Dirmeyer and O'Malley combined to make 17 saves, while Flannigan only had to come up with seven.

The 7-2-1 Hawks face their toughest contest of the year next Tuesday when they travel to Connecticut to face a strong Bridgeport University squad. A New Palitz win could mean an outside shot at the NCAA tournament. "If not it's 'wait 'til next year."

And next year the Hawks should be even stronger. Yesterday, Lee Roberts' freshman squad downed the West Point plagues 3-1 at West Point, as center forward David Iyasere tallied twice, the first one at the 17 second mark of the first period, and right wing Bernie Schaffer of Kerhonkson added the insurance goal.

Rondout Has It Rough In UCAL Playoffs

By DENNIS R. CARO
(Freeman Sports Staff)

The Rondout Valley High School football team won the regular season championship in the Ulster County Athletic League with a perfect 5-0 record, but the Ganders have the toughest row to hoe in the post-season playoff championships.

Saturday, they host the Iron Dukes of Marlboro in the semifinals, a rematch that coach Jim Brennan is really looking forward to, and should they get by the Dukes they must face the winner of the Pine-Bush Liberty game.

Marlboro rebounded from a 25-13 loss to Rondout Valley with a 7-7 tie against Liberty last week, despite the fact that the Dukes fielded an injury riddled ball club. They're going to be a lot healthier for the Ganders rematch, and Rondout Coach John (Chick) Meehan isn't forgetting the 13-13 first half the two clubs played two weeks ago.

Rondout's regular quarterback Johnny Meehan, Jr. is out for the season, and although reserve Ken Brush has looked very respectable in his last two outings he must still be considered relatively inexperienced.

Pine Bush was on the losing end of a 21-0 decision the last time coach Don Hawk took his team across the Sullivan County line, but this has been an up and down year for the Bushmen and Indian Woody Witherspoon isn't holding his breath for a repeat.

The Bushmen routed Highland 21-0 Saturday for only their second win in league play, but they opened their season by beating a very strong Minisink Valley squad. It was the only loss for Minisink in the last two years, and should the Bushmen come off to the same sort of effort, Liberty is in for a surprise.

Highland rounds out the post season UCAL schedule by hosting winless New Palitz in a consolation game that could rank as one of the greatest "futility bowls" of them all.

The Highlanders lost their chance at the playoffs when Pine Bush beat them last week, and although coach Lem Atkins' squad easily destroyed New Palitz in their first meeting, this time it could be another story.

Bill Freer's Huguenots have nothing to lose but their seventh of the season, but the Highlanders should have a rough time getting up for a contest as meaningless as this one.

The winners in the semi-final contests meet for the post-season championship November 9, at Pine Bush if the Bushmen and Dukes are the contestants, or at Wallkill if there is any other combination.

It's an odds-on bet the game will be at Wallkill, the only time the Indians will host this year. Wallkill decided not to field a team this year when only 22 boys showed up for the opening day of practice, and when the Oneonta bud- get failed the league decided on a playoff championship to round out the season.

Army in Showdown

By STEVE SMILANICH
UPI Sports Writer

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI)—Army's charged-up Cadets are preparing for Saturday's showdown with powerful Penn State with the fever usually reserved for getting ready for Navy.

Coach Tom Cahill and his staff made no secret of the fact the game against the fourth-ranked Nittany Lions is the biggest on Army's schedule and their preparations reflect the importance of the battle at University Park, Pa.

The Black Knights, meeting their third highly regarded opponent in the past five weeks, worked out for an hour and 40 minutes in cold weather Tuesday night. The change to standard time forced the Cahill charges to work under the lights.

"We anticipate no major changes in strategy for Penn State," said Cahill. "We'll stress the fundamental basics the remainder of this week. We know they're a strong team that likes to run but they also have a quarterback who can throw."

Army, which ran up its highest scoring output in a decade in last Saturday's 57-25 trouncing of Duke, came out of the Blue Devil contest with no injuries. As a result, Cahill said he plans no major lineup changes for the Nittany Lions.

However, Hank Andrzejczak, who appeared for only two plays in the Duke game, is expected to see full-time duty as the swing man in Army's backfield.

Jarvis and junior halfback Lynn Moore were the top ball carriers in the win over Duke. Jarvis, the Black Knights' workhorse fullback, quarterback Steve Lindell and end Gary Steele all played against the Nittany Lions as sophomores in 1966 as Army won 11-0 in a game played in a heavy downpour.

Army takes a 4-2 record into the game while Penn State is 5-0. However, the Cadets have been impressive the past three weeks with victories over Rutgers, California and Duke.

Penn State is rated a 10-1-2 point favorite and will be seeking its first home field triumph over the Cadets. Army holds a 10-4-2 advantage in the series. In their last appearance at University Park in 1963, Army won 10-7.

LARRY EGAN

General Manager Larry Egan of the Los Angeles Kings hockey team was fined $1,000 Tuesday for punching Referee Bruce Hood in the face. Furthermore, he was sent to Chechoslovakia and possibly Russia on a combination "suspension and scouting trip." Egan is shown in a 1968 file photo. (UPI TELEPHOTO.)

John Chapman Kathy O'Brien Share RR Spot

WESTBURY, N.Y. (UPI)—John Chapman and Kathy O'Brien shared the spotlight Tuesday night at Roosevelt Raceway.

Chapman became the eighth driver in harness racing history to win his 2,000th lifetime victory and Kathy O'Brien ($6,800) captured the $60,000 New York Sire stakes two-year-old pacing filly feature event.

Chapman, a 40-year-old Canadian-born teamster, won his first two starts of the night with pacers, But But ($8.60) in the first race and Green River Ally ($17.60) in the third race, to enter the charmed circle.

Kathy O'Brien now has four victories in nine starts for the H. and J. Stables of Middletown, N.Y.

The 2-8 double returned $42.30 as Twigs Boy ($6.40) won the second race to combine with But But.

Ulster's John Schatzel fired an opening day 244-681 series that is likely to stand for a while. Other top efforts included Dennis Cassidy's 235-631 for Sullivan and Tony DeCervo's 215-618 for Orange.

Schatzel's 227 average leads by a wide margin. Others in the select circle are: Dennis Cassidy, UCCC, 210; De Cervo, OCCC, 206; Bruce Day, OCCC, 200; and Roger Lindhurst, UC, 195.

Oneonta Sweeps in X-C Record Breaker

UTICA — The State University College, Oneonta cross-country team swept to impressive victories over Utica College and State University.

In New Palitz here yesterday when all five Red Dragon scoring runners broke the existing course record.

Al Pastore nosed out teammate Jim Dever for first place overall honors, but both were clocked in 19 minutes and 55 seconds for the 3.9 mile run, a minute and 29 seconds better than the existing course record.

Only a fifth place finish by Hawk harrier Jim Longo in New Palitz here yesterday when all five Red Dragon scoring runners broke the existing course record.

Oneonta downed New Palitz 16-40 the dual meet scoring, and blitzed Utica 15-48, the largest margin it is possible to win a dual meet by.

New Palitz came out even on the day, taking Utica by a 16-41 margin.

Hawk coach Ed Bell said Jim Borden ran his best race of the year as the hustling harrier finished eighth overall in 22:05, right behind teammate Timmy Lyon who toured the course in 21:37.

Jim Hernandez finished 10th overall in 22:30, and Terry Moore closed out the Hawk scoring with a 12th place finish in 22:42.

Order of finish:

Penn State Leads Lambert

NEW YORK (UPI)—Penn State was unanimously picked as the East's leading major college and Delaware narrowly beat out Springfield among small colleges in weekly balloting for the Lambert awards.

Penn State, winner of the Lambert Trophy last year, routed Boston College 29-0 last weekend for its fifth consecutive victory to be named the leading team on the ballots of all eight selectors for 80 points.

Army, which whipped Duke 57-25 for its fourth triumph against two defeats, was second in the Lambert Trophy race with 67 points, only two more than Yale, which boosted its record to 5-0 with a 25-13 victory over Cornell. Harvard (5-0) was fourth with 52 points, Syracuse (3-2) fifth with 51 and Pennsylvania (5-0) was sixth with 44.

Delaware took over the lead for the Lambert Cup, symbolic of supremacy among medium-sized colleges in the East, as it beat Temple 50-27 to poll 71 points. Springfield (5-1) got 68 points, followed by C.W. Post with 65 points, Amherst with 55, Williams with 47, and Lafayette with 23.

If you're wondering if it's worth it—don't try it. We mean jacking of deer and illegal possession and we know that the six men recently picked up in the Woodland Valley area should know that angus beef comes much cheaper and can be much more tender.

Arrested by Troopers Fitzgerald of the Kingston substation and town constables William Jansen and James Short of Shandaken and Game Warden Bernstein of Phoenicia were: Louis Rotella, 17; Paul Dutcher, 21; and Carl Lumbaka, 16, all of Phoenicia for illegal taking of deer and before Judge Kirk paid fines in a compromise settlement of $102.50 each.

Illegal possession of deer brought fines of $50 each to Lionel Herron, 18, of Shandaken; Harry Field, 22, of Yonkers and Robert Travia, 22, also of Yonkers. The trio also paid court charges.

OUR HATS OFF to the fine work of the arresting officers and to Judge Kirk for mending out the fines. We just wish it was more. These young men do not belong in the sportsmen's fraternity.

In case you wonder about the work load of our county Deputy Game Warden, it may be noted they are on call 7 days a week and the county of Ulster has only five wardens to patrol the entire area.

Al Roberts of Highland has the Highland-Marlboro-Lloyd and New Paltz area, plus parts of Gardiner. Alfred Schneller has Dwaarskill, Wawarsing, Ellenville, east of Route 209 and a portion of Orange County, Shawangunk and part of Gardiner.

Phil Gillen of St. Remy has the towns of Marletown, Rosendale, Hurley, Ulster and the City of Kingston.

James Overbaugh has Saugerties, Town of Woodstock, and Town of Kingston.

Henry Bernstein of Phoenicia has Olive, Shandaken and Denning.

Each man has an area of between 225 and 300 miles to cover and, except for special occasions, ride alone.

With the ever increasing number of hunters, especially in the big game field, we think it's about time the Conservation Department make better use of its money and give these devoted men a much needed and deserved pay raise. We are all for recreation, golfing, skiing and what not the department comes up with, but how about putting some of this money into the pockets of the warden.

To the crackpot duck hunter who put a board into the bell-ringing buoy in the river off Port Ewen on a recent foggy morning—this is serious business and does not bear repetition. A $2,000 fine and a stiff jail sentence may be forthcoming for this act of stupidity.

First reports on the opening of the big game season in the Northern Zone indicate that plenty of deer are being taken, mostly party permit does which is a naughty word for natives and buck-deer-only hunters. The extremely warm weather of this past Sunday didn't make for ideal conditions. As per usual, the Moose River area was heavily hunted and as one native put it: "You need a deer real bad, if you get into this convention-like area."

Roy Melbert and Gary Cline had a most successful season trolling for walleye pike in the Ashokan. Both came in with several good size pike.

OLD RIP SEZ: He likes the slogan of a local politician: "Punish the criminals who use guns, not the sportsmen."

Knicks Blast SF Warriors

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Knickerbockers reeled off 11 straight points to break a 26-26 tie early in the second period and went on to beat the San Francisco Warriors 110-97 Tuesday night in the second game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Chicago Bulls defeated the previous unbeaten Boston Celtics 103-97 in the opener at Madison Square Garden.

The Knicks relied on a balanced offense with five men in double figures led by Cazzie Russell's 24 points, 17 of which came in the second half. Dick Barnett had 20, Walt Frazier 15, Bill Bradley 13 and Willis Reed 12.

New York, which never trailed in the game, built a 54-45 halftime lead and led by as many as 17 points four times.

Rudy LaRusso led the Warrior attack with 23 points. Nate Thurmond adding 21 and Al Attles 18.

The Bulls, after dissipating a 22-point lead within nine minutes of the third period, fought back to hand the Celtics their first loss of the season.

In the battle between the two Western powerhouses, the Los Angeles Lakers nipped Atlanta, 125-124 on a 25-foot jumper by Elgin Baylor with only two seconds remaining.

The Hawks got some torrid shooting from Zelmo Beatty, who hit on 15 of 20 floor shots and led all scorers with 31 points. Baylor had 28 for L.A. Jerry West added 26 and Wilt Chamberlain had 25.

In the only other game, the Baltimore Bullets handed the Milwaukee Bucks their fifth consecutive defeat 129-112 behind the 29-point shooting of Kevin Loughery. Baltimore broke to a 36-point lead and breezed home.

Emile's Manager Blows Cool Over Philly Decision

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—

Stanley "Kitten" Hayward won an upset split 10-round decision over former middleweight champion Emile Griffith Tuesday night. Griffith and his manager, Gil Clancy, screamed they were robbed and would appeal the verdict to the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission.

Referee Zack Clayton and judge Lou Tress each scored the fight 47-46 for Hayward, of Philadelphia. Judge Jack Styles had it 47-44 for Griffith. The Associated Press had it 48-43 for Griffith, who twice has held the middleweight title and was welterweight champ.

The bone of contention was Clayton's scoring of the 10th round. He carded it 5-5 under the Pennsylvania scoring system of five points must for the winner of a round.

Griffith, however, appeared to win the final round handily. In fact, he had Hayward staggering as the bell ended the fiercely waged fight.

Hayward admitted he had conceded the last round to the bustling New Yorker.

"I was not fighting my usual fight in the 10th round," he said, "because my trainer told me I had won the first six rounds and all I had to do to win was finish."

Griffith's manager also disclosed he had told the commission Tuesday afternoon about receiving an anonymous telephone call warning him, "Hayward will get help from the officials. I made the commission aware of this and was assured it would use its best officials."

Griffith weighed 156 and Hayward, the sixth ranking welterweight, 155, for the bout before 4,375 fans at the Spectrum.

Nets and Bucs ABA Winners: Barry Tallies 39

COMMACK, N. Y. (UPI)—

Willie Worsley came off the bench for star guard Lavern Tart Tuesday night to score 23 points, pacing the New York Nets to a 108-89 upset victory over the Denver Rockets in an American Basketball Association game.

The Nets trailed by 16 points when Worsley replaced Tart in the second quarters. Bob Verga of Denver led all scorers with 24 points and his teammate Wayne Hightower, had 19.

In other ABA action, former NBA scoring champion Rick Barry tallied 39 points but the New Orleans Bucs spoiled the Oakland Oaks' home debut 124-119 before 5,974 disappointed fans. James Jones led New Orleans with 26, as the Oaks dropped their first game in four starts.

Connie Hawkins scored 34 points to pace the Minnesota Pipers to 116-108 win over the Miami Floridians. Willie Morris scored 24 for Miami.

St. Bonaventure, FSU, LaSalle Placed on Probation by NCAA

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Bonaventure, ranked third in the 1968 Associated Press basketball poll, LaSalle and Florida State have been placed on probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association's policy council for rules infractions.

The probation bars them from postseason games—LaSalle for two years, Florida State and St. Bonaventure for one year.

The disciplinary action was announced Tuesday by Arthur J. Bergstrom, assistant executive director of the NCAA Council shortly after the council opened a three day meeting.

St. Bonaventure ran up a 23-game winning streak until beaten by North Carolina in the NCAA Eastern regional semifinals at Raleigh last spring.

LaSalle reached the NCAA championships at College Park, Md., before bowing to Columbia.

There was no immediate comment from coaches or officials of the schools involved.

However, Jim Harding, who was coach at LaSalle when some of the infractions occurred, admitted violation of rules in regard to scholarships. Harding now is with the Minnesota Pipers of the American Basketball Association.

Bergstrom said the LaSalle coaching staff was guilty of terminating an athletic scholarship for poor performance and threatening to repeat the action in other cases.

LaSalle's freshman coach also awarded token cash prizes to outstanding athletes, in contravention of NCAA rules. Bergstrom said, and it was found that several players holding down off-campus jobs were being paid for hours they did not work.

Florida State, highly ranked in the Southeast, was found guilty of organizing and conducting early practice sessions last spring for the benefit of prospective team members.

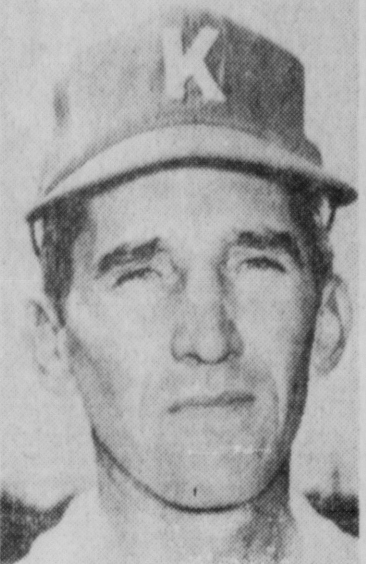

The school's coaches also conducted out of season practices which players, according to Bergstrom, considered mandatory. The coaches further broke NCAA rules by bringing two prospects to Panama City, Fla., on a sight-seeing tour at no cost to the athletes.

Bergstrom said at least one LaSalle athlete was told to withhold information from the NCAA.

In Minneapolis, Harding told The Associated Press: "I did remove the scholarship of a boy named Fern Scott when he quit the squad. I did tell the squad after a poor game they would either have to play ball or their scholarships would go."

"But when we did find out that NCAA rules prevented this we gave Scott his scholarship back and didn't remove any of the scholarships," he added. "When the coach influenced the committee to terminate a student's scholarship, he was usurping rights that didn't belong to him. A coach cannot threaten to terminate or terminate a financial aid contract."

CHARLIE BRADSHAW

University of Kentucky football coach Charlie Bradshaw (shown in 1967 photo) submitted his resignation to a school official at Lexington, Ky., Tuesday. This season the Wildcats are at the bottom of the Southeastern Conference. The only two victories came against non-conference opponents-Missouri and Oregon State.

Rash of Burglaries Hit Port Ewen

Another in a rash of burglaries in the Port Ewen area was reported at Walls Pianos and Organs, Broadway, in that community during last night, according to the County Sheriff's Office.

Deputy James Freese, who investigated said entry was gained by forcing a garage door which leads to the main building. The break-in occurred sometime between 6:30 p. m. Tuesday and 7 a. m. today. Several musical instruments including guitars and a piano tuner were taken, the deputy said. An estimate of the total loss could not be given until an inventory is taken, the deputy said.

County Investigator Harold T. Bowers is continuing the investigation.

The Sheriff's Office is still investigating several other break-ins and thefts of musical instruments in the Port Ewen area.

On Oct. 18 a break-in was reported at J. C. Metal Spinning and Stamping Co. Tools estimated at about $60 including a power drill and a set of socket wrenches are part of the loot reported missing.

At the same time Rondout Marina in Connelly reported entry had been gained sometime during the night. The owner discovered the hasp broken on a basement door. Nothing apparently was missing.

Earlier a burglary was reported at Farmer's Market, Broadway, Port Ewen, where a cigarette vending machine was broken open and about $20 in change taken and some cold cuts were missing.

Another, the fourth of that week was reported at the B & D Texaco Service Station, also on Broadway, where a cigarette machine was rifled. The burglars took two screwdrivers from the premises.

In mid-September a Sandberg tape recorder valued at $200 was reported taken from Port Ewen School. There was no evidence of forced entry. The recorder was taken during the weekend.

Jaycees Plan Monthly Award

Kingston Jaycees have inaugurated a new program in which it will select a law officer of the month and year from among law enforcement agencies in the Kingston area.

Selection will be made from members of the Kingston Police Force, Sheriff's Department, New York State Police and town constables.

Basis for consideration will be integrity, heroism and contribution to the community.

A monthly selection has been planned and an annual award will be made to the most outstanding of the monthly winners.

A certificate of merit from the Jaycees will be presented.

Dear Abby

Old Lady Has Eyes for Him

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1968 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 21-year-old male and unattached, also a steady worker and mind my own business. My best friend is married, has a wife and baby and they live with her people. They have no transportation, so I visit them quite often. While I am there, I am in the company of her parents. Now for my problem: My friend's mother-in-law wrote to me declaring her "love" for me, Abby. I have never even looked sideways at this old lady and I don't know what gave her the idea that I could care for her. I hate to go to their house again, knowing how she feels about me. But if I stay away, my buddy will wonder why. Should I tell him about this? Or is there a better way to handle it?

INNOCENT VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: Don't mention this to your buddy or his wife, and don't go to his house any more than is necessary. But when you do, be sure you continue to mind your own business and make sure you don't look at the old lady sideways or any other way. If she pitches you again, tell her (quietly) to confine her "love" to her husband.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem you wouldn't believe. I am 16-years-old, and for as long as I can remember I haven't done anything without cheating. I have also stolen all my life. I started when I was little, taking small things from my friends. I have even shoplifted and stolen money just to get away with something. I've never been caught. I guess I'm just lucky, or maybe I'm good at it from so much experience. I am also a terrible liar. I lie just to get people to listen to me. I don't have any friends, but I'd like at least one good friend. I'm always trying to impress people, but I just end up making a fool of myself.

I'd like to be a good person but I don't have the willpower. I need some help before it's too late, if it's not too late already. So, Dear Abby, what can you do for a 16-year-old failure?

DEAR FAILURE: No one who knows his faults as well as you know yours can be considered a "failure." Furthermore, you are realistic enough to blame nobody but yourself for your weaknesses, smart enough to know that you lie because you want to attract attention, and sufficiently honest to admit that you want friends. If there is a school counselor or psychologist, make tracks for that office. If you get the help you need, I'll put my chips on you!

DEAR ABBY: I baby-sit for a very nice lady I'll call Mrs. Jones. She has a 4-year-old child. Mrs. Jones has a sister who lives on the other side of town who has a pair of wild twin boys about the same age as Mrs. Jones' little girl. When I come to sit for Mrs. Jones, I will very often find the twin boys there because Mrs. Jones and her sister are going off together. Abby, I don't mind this at all, but when I have to bathe three children, give them their dinners, and put them to bed, not to mention trying to keep them from getting into things they shouldn't, and keeping them from fighting, don't you think I should get paid extra? Well, I don't. The two mothers split the cost between them and I get paid only for taking care of one. Is this fair? How should I explain this to Mrs. Jones the next time this happens?

GYPPED

DEAR GYPPEE: Don't wait for it to "happen" again. Tell Mrs. Jones before you sit that you charge by the child, and not by the hour.

death of hearing widows complain because people call them MRS. JANE DOE instead of the more proper MRS. JOHN DOE. I'm a widow, and I couldn't care less about what people call me — as long as they CALL me.

Horoscope By SYDNEY OMARR It's In The Stars

(“The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.”)

Forecast for Thursday, October 31, 1968

ARIES (March 21-April 19): How you relate to puzzles, problems is spotlighted. You draw the unknown closer. You piece together puzzle. Your ability to react under pressure is emphasized. Social contacts are necessary—mix.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Without friends there is a lack. Today you can gain admiration and win loyalty. There are details which have been neglected. You can straighten out misunderstandings. You can win.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Accent on how you handle challenge. Key is to communicate. Give and receive. Don't feel you know it all. Be open to suggestions. Standing in community is important. You can elevate it. You feel greater sense of security. Good lunar aspect corresponds to verification of basic philosophy. You know what is right; key is to follow through. This involves correspondence, travel.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your desires may conflict with budget. Be realistic. Don't ask for more than can be handled. Means work with tools at hand. Be practical. Otherwise you could overextend yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Opposition is not as strong as you might imagine. Spotlight is on public relations. Be sure your viewpoint gets across. Do so by being calm, receptive. Don't force issues. But be firm, confident.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Spotlight on how you accomplish important task. Patience is a necessity. Individual who works with you confides problem. Don't cast first stone. Understand—offer constructive suggestion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Creative forces are magnified. Keep rein on emotions. Tendency is to go too far, too fast.

Be an innovator. But know how far to go. Message is crystallized by tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Land offers, home purchase possibilities are highlighted. Your mood could change. Not wise to commit yourself. Examine various possibilities. Check with experts. Obtain key answers.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Breakthrough occurs. You're able to communicate and make contacts. Many are impressed with your unique abilities. Display humor, versatility. Catch up on correspondence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Stress continues on area of money, possessions. Gain shown if you are thorough. Leave nothing to chance. Find out the why of recent events. If persistent, definite gain is indicated.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Take special care with the way you look, act. Spotlight is on personal appearance, endeavors. New contacts apt to be beneficial. Members of opposite sex are duly impressed—you enjoy it.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are a determined individual, never willing to give up on a project no matter what the odds. You are a fierce battler for the underdog. Recent contact now brings you added responsibility. Result could be most satisfying.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for PISCES, ARIES, TAURUS. Special word to SAGITTARIUS: give respect to older individual who offers aid. Bridge

Competitive Bid Helps to Win

By Oswald and James Jacoby

The Spanish team in the World Bridge Olympiad finished in 15th place only, but it did manage to beat the United States handily in one match. Entertaining bidding at both tables, plus good play, managed to bring them part scores each way and a profit of six International Match Points on this hand.

The bidding in the box shows the action when Serra and Cabot of Spain sat North and South.

North's two spade calls was strictly competitive and a trifle too rich for the United States player at the other table, who merely passed.

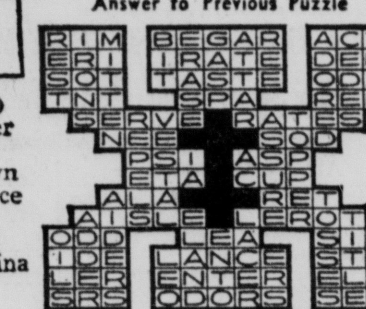

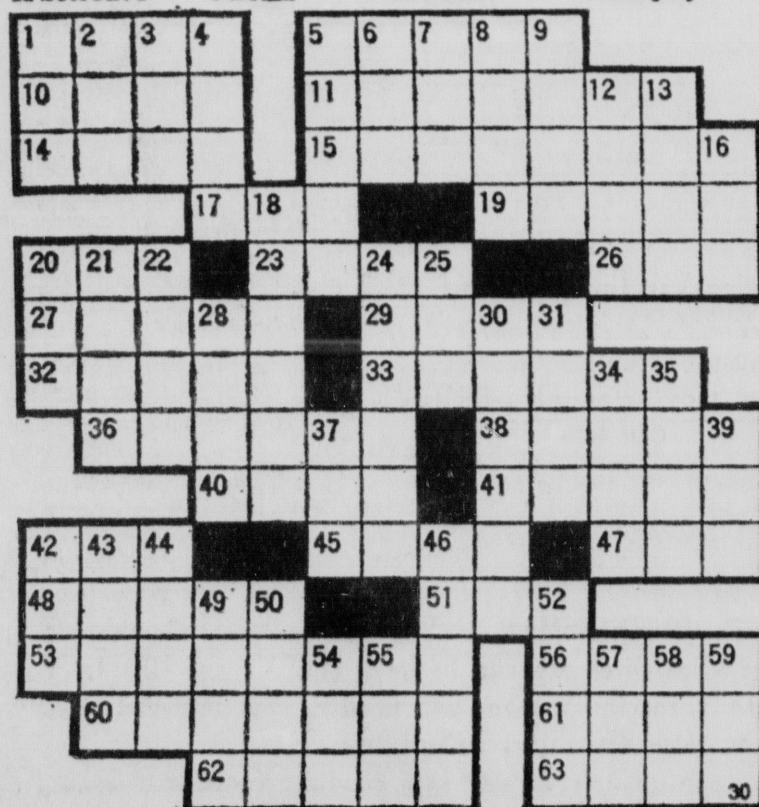

East won the spade lead and returned the eight of hearts. South ducked and West was in with the king. If West had played a pat defense and led another spade there is an excellent chance that South would have taken two diamond finesses and gone down one, because West held both the king and queen, but West abandoned the pat defense and led his king of diamonds. Now all South had to do was to win that trick, draw trumps, lead a club to dummy's king and concede a trick to the queen of diamonds. At the other table, after the American North failed to bid two spades, East bid three clubs anyway and everyone passed. North led the spade jack. Dummy's ace won and a club was led. The finesse of the queen lost to the king. North played a spade and South won the second defensive trick to lead the jack of clubs. West won that and played his king of diamonds. Later West led a heart from dummy to his king and returned a heart. He played low from dummy and South had to take his ace for the fourth and last defensive trick. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

sans (sanz) without

After he had discovered he was sans money, the embarrassed Air Force captain had to borrow a few dollars from his date. When the angry husband realized he was sans tools because his brother-in-law had borrowed them, he screamed at his wife for permitting the loan. The high school senior, a young man who realized the need for an automobile in order to attend his prom, told his friend that he was presently sans a ride for the dance.

GESTURE FOR HECKLERS — Third party presidential candidate George Wallace gestures at hecklers who greeted his appearance at the Garfield County Courthouse in Enid, Okla. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Nixon Invades HHH Country, Lashes at VP, Criticizes LBJ

ROCHESTER, Minn. (UPI)—to exercise intellectual courage, Richard Nixon invaded Hubert Humphrey's home state today and characterized Lyndon Johnson's vice president as "a man who has trotted meekly along behind his master."

Nixon accused Humphrey of failing to dissent from the decisions of Johnson and failing to exercise intellectual courage. He said it reflected on his ability to serve in the White House.

"A man who has trotted meekly along behind his master cannot be expected to lead," Nixon said.

Three State Tour

The Republican presidential nominee sandwiched the Rochester stopover in a day that included appearances in Marion, Ill., Cleveland, Ohio, and a windup in New York City.

The Minnesota visit was the only exception to a Nixon plan that called for devoting the campaign's final week to swings in only the "big seven" states. Nixon deliberately chose Rochester to deliver one of his sharpest attacks on Humphrey. He also timed it to follow by one day Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's long-awaited endorsement of the vice president. The net effect, Nixon hoped, would be to garner 10 electoral votes from a state which could go either way and to remind antiwar McCarthy supporters throughout the nation of Humphrey's close association with the Johnson administration and by implication the decisions that administration made on the unpopular war.

Criticizes Johnson

Besides lashing out at Humphrey, Nixon also took on the President. He pictured Johnson as a political despot.

"The past four years have been a time of only one idea in Washington," Nixon said. "That idea was unquestioning obedience to the whims of the President."

Nixon said that Johnson surrounded himself with "yesmen" and as a result produced "an intellectual disaster in Washington."

Nixon promised that if elected he would form a government of men and women from a wide range of professions and representing independents and Democrats, as well as Republicans. "The President cannot isolate himself from the great intellectual ferment of the times," Nixon said. "This is one reason I don't want a government of yesmen."

Wallace Speech Cut by Hecklers

DETROIT (AP) — Scuffling and heckling forced George C. Wallace to cut short a speech Tuesday night in which he told a capacity crowd at Cobo Arena, "If we're slipping, we're slipping right into the White House."

As the crowd left the 11,200-capacity arena, which had been filled, police and several hundred anti-Wallace demonstrators engaged in a melee in which one policeman received an eye injury reported to have been caused by a spray. He was admitted to Detroit General Hospital.

At the rally, the crowd cheered Wallace's words, often standing on their seats. His hecklers were equally persistent.

They hooted and jeered and chanted obscene phrases beginning even before he appeared and while the audience was singing "God Bless America." They continued without letup.

The candidate came prepared to deliver a speech on the nation's economy but gave it up and made his law and order speech, cutting it by about 15 minutes when violence erupted in the audience.

The free-for-all was touched off when a man snatched from another man's head a plastic hat with a Wallace sticker on it, tore it up and threw the pieces in his face.

Wallace backers responded by hurling their chairs into the anti-Wallace crowd and the hecklers hurled them back. Police rushed into the stands and dragged off about 20 persons.

Earlier, before Wallace arrived, a ruckus erupted when a Wallace supporter grabbed an anti-Wallace placard from someone's hands, held it above his head and ripped it in pieces. Then another person sprayed a choking chemical at the hecklers and the fight was on. Police restored order and hauled two of the protesters out.

The candidate, speaking above the uproar through a powerful amplifier, taunted the hecklers throughout his speech. "You came for trouble and you got it," he said during one melee, and during another he interrupted his speech to say to his supporters: "If you want to stop all this nonsense, you vote for me Nov. 5 and I'll stop it."

The unfettered emotion at Cobo Arena was in marked contrast to an earlier Wallace appearance Tuesday in Enid, Okla., before a crowd of 3,000-

4,000 at the courthouse square. That speech came just after the third party candidate issued a position paper outlining his stand on the oil and gas industry.

He said all coastal states, not just Florida and Texas, are entitled to own offshore oil and gas rights at least 10 miles out, and that the Federal Power Commission's powers ought to be redefined to "prohibit the usurpation of state regulatory authority."

Wallace did not mention in his policy paper his position on the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance. Asked about it later, he replied, "All these matters ought to be appraised and looked into and considered and we'll do that at the proper time."

Hubert Fights Street-to-Street

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is trying to street-fight his way to the presidency.

He is fighting Republican Richard M. Nixon from corner to corner in towns and cities of the industrialized, populous East. He uses loud echoes from large street crowds to support his claims the GOP nominee has "never" done anything for the working man, the black man, the poor, the aged or indigent ill.

Humphrey used the street rally medium Tuesday in campaigning across Ohio and large sections of Pennsylvania, appearing occasionally in a school auditorium but concentrating on outdoor meetings at factories, in shopping centers and in midtown business districts.

Today he campaigns in New York City and surrounding suburbs, winding up tonight at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Baltimore.

What the vice president was attempting to do in these closing days of the national campaign was to sell voters on the idea that Nixon and his running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, were not sufficiently trustworthy to head the national government. Words such as "irresponsible," "incompetent" and "deliberately misleading" were used by Nixon by Humphrey several times daily. The vice president was making the most of Nixon's recommendation the Job Corps be phased out, using this particularly in less affluent areas as a sample of what might happen under a Nixon-Agnew administration.

Speaking to a Democratic money-raising dinner here Tuesday night at the end of a physically taxing day in rain and cold weather, Humphrey let up his fire at Nixon long enough to emphasize his independence from Johnson administration in dealing, if elected with the Vietnam war.

Humphrey said: "The man who is our President now is retiring. On January 20, I will be my own president. I will make peace in Vietnam—and I will make it my own way."

He also promised to "labor night and day to end the insane nuclear armaments race," a position which the vice president has insisted repeatedly is opposed by Nixon.
